FORECAST—Moderate northeast winds shifting to southeast, mostly fair and mild. Tuesday, fresh southerly winds, mild, with increasing cloudiness and mist.

Sunshine yesterday, 3 hours 6 minutes.

JUROR TALKS; LIQUOR TRIAL ENDS

WINNIPEG (CP) — Trial of eight men charged with conspiracy to defraud the federal government ended abruptly here this afternoon when Mr. Justice A. K. Dysart announced he would discharge the jury because one of the jurymen had violated his oath.

The judge's announcement closed the trial of William Wolchock, Sam Arbour, Frank McGirl, Ned and Ben Balakowsky and Eugene, Cass and Jules Mourant, who are accused of conspiring to defraud the Dominion government of $100,000 by operating an illicit liquor still at Prairie Grove, Man.

Mr. Justice Dysart said a week-end investigation had revealed that juryman D. I. Thompson, Winnipeg electrical contractor, had violated his oath by discussing the case with an outsider and making known his intention.

LARGE LOSSES IN MANILA TYPHOON

MANILA (AP)—Houses and crops were destroyed and countless inhabitants made homeless in the Visayan Islands by a typhoon that swept in from the Pacific last night and moved out into the China Sea today. The centre of the storm passed fairly close to the Culion leper colony.

Communications were disrupted and one man was reported missing on Saar Island. The Philippine Clipper, due this afternoon at Guam, was delayed a day.

3 of Family Burned

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Three members of a family burned to death and four others were injured, one critically, today in fire that destroyed their home near Carntown, 20 miles southeast of here.

The dead were P. T. Kennedy, 60; his daughter, Mrs. Donald Leonardi, 26, and her 19-months-old daughter.

Chiang Takes Over Post of Premier

CHUNGKING, China (AP)—General Chiang Kai-shek today assumed the chairmanship of the executive yuan, a post equivalent to that of premier, replacing H. H. Kung, who became vice-chairman.

Chiang, at the beginning of the conflict with Japan in 1937, resigned as head of the civil administration to assume command of China's armed forces.

The general now is president of the supreme defence council, chairman of the military commission, chairman of the people's council and leader of the Nationalist Party.

Passengers Quit Dutch Liners

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Passengers on three Netherlands liners have been ordered to disembark here, it was disclosed today, rather than risk the dangers of the mine-laden North Sea.

The ships, the Oranje, the Jan Pieterszoon Coen and the Johan de Witt, carried approximately 1,000 passengers bound for northern Europe. The vessels reached Portugal last week.

PUBLIC BARRED AT KUHN TRIAL

NEW YORK (AP)—Peter L. F. Sabbatino, counsel for Fritz Kuhn, German-American Bund leader, demanded a mistrial today when Judge James Wallace excluded the public from Kuhn's trial and rebuked the lawyer for disputing the order. The motion was denied. Kuhn is charged with grand larceny of bund funds.

The order barring the public was understood to have resulted from the judge's annoyance at repeated outbursts of laughter and tittering.

OTTAWA CUTS SOCIAL EVENTS

OTTAWA (CP)—Social functions usually associated with the opening of regular sessions of Parliament are likely to be dropped when Parliament opens early in January, 1940, it was learned on good authority this afternoon.

Following the precedent of Great War days, functions likely to be dropped are the state dinner at Government House on the evening preceding the opening and Their Excellencies' drawing-room which customarily is held in the Senate Chamber on the evening following the opening day.

The New Year's Day levee, held by the Governor-General in the Parliament Building, probably will be held as usual.

Activity Reduced

PARIS (AP)—Tonight's War Ministry communique reported: "Reduced activity on the front. Few patrols and some artillery fire."

Earl Browder Pleads Not Guilty

NEW YORK (AP)—Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist Party in America, pleaded not guilty today to a second federal indictment charging him with making false statements in order to obtain a passport.

He had pleaded not guilty to an earlier indictment last month and has been at liberty under $7,500 bail. His bail on the second indictment, returned last Friday, was continued and trial was set for December 4.

Vancouver Man Hit By Car Dies

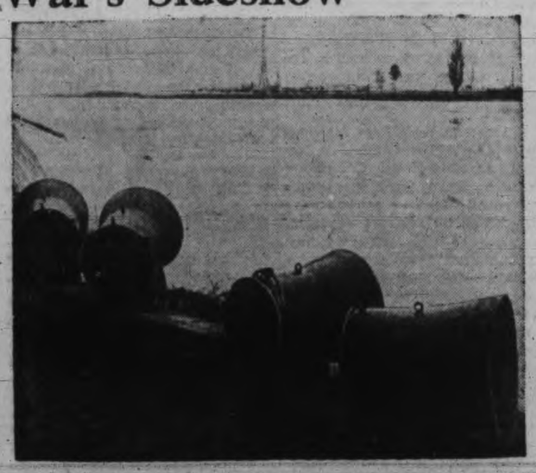
VANCOUVER (CP) — Ernest Couling, 40, died in a hospital here today six hours after he had been struck by a taxicab as he crossed a residential street while on his way to work. He suffered head and leg injuries.

Seattle Leukemia Patient Aided

SEATTLE (AP) — Henry S. Pavey, 25, an anxious husband who appealed for blood donors to aid in an attempt to save the life of his 23-year-old wife, Frances Pavey, victim of leukemia, a usually fatal disease, was more hopeful today.

A man of 31, who remains anonymous, gave Mrs. Pavey some of his blood yesterday. He told physicians he had suffered from the disease and had been cured about 14 years ago. His statement was confirmed by a Philadelphia hospital, physicians said.

War's Sideshow



BIG GUNS IN WAR OF WORDS—Although there's not much fighting, it's not by any means all quiet on the western front. For here are some of the greatest noise makers yet devised by man—batteries of giant loud speakers used by the Germans to hurl Nazi propaganda across the river at the French forces. It certainly is a funny kind of war.

$60,000 to the Ton Bonanza

Guards with shotguns patrol the entrance of the century-old Calhoun mine, near Dahlonega, Ga., after discovery of a gold vein so great it "appeared as one continuous ribbon of yellow metal." State geologist said bonanza ore assayed $60,000 to ton, richest found in 25 years. Strike was made during exporations.

Operations chief Major Graham Dugas (second from right) and miners display huge nuggets taken in the recent gold strike at Calhoun mine, south of Dahlonega, Ga. Ore assay of $60,000 to ton, is comparable to richness of fabulous Comstock lode of Nevada.

R.C.A.F. Flier Killed in Crash

HALIFAX (CP)—Flying Officer D. R. Anderson of Montreal was killed when a Royal Canadian Air Force plane which he was piloting crashed at the Dartmouth airdrome today.

Cause of the accident is uncertain. Flying Officer Anderson, with No. 115 auxiliary squadron at Montreal before the start of the war, was flying alone.

A court of inquiry will be held, military authorities said.

Flying Officer Anderson graduated from McGill University in 1924.

The funeral of Flying Officer G. P. Johnstone, killed when his training plane collided with another over the Rockcliffe Military Airdrome outside Ottawa, will be held in Regina. A Royal Canadian Air Force escort accompanied the body to the station when it was put aboard a train last night for the late pilot's home city.

ANTI-WAR GROUPS PUT ON TRIAL

MONTREAL (CP) — R. L. Calder, retained by the Civil Liberties Union of Canada to defend nine persons charged with distributing anti-war pamphlets, argued before Judge Andree Monet today that the Defence of Canada Act exceeded the powers of Parliament. He also challenged the jurisdiction of the summary convictions court.

Trial of the nine was postponed a week to permit defence counsel to prepare a written protest against jurisdiction of the court.

The nine—seven men and two women—were arrested during Armistice week-end in a series of co-ordinated raids by Royal Canadian Mounted Police and provincial and municipal officers.

THREE IN REGINA

REGINA (CP) — Further remand till Wednesday was given William Murray, when he appeared in city police court today on a charge under the Defence of Canada Act of distributing anti-war propaganda.

Two girls, aged 17 and 18, will also appear that day to answer similar charges.

The three were arrested by police November 10, after pamphlets were placed under doors of homes in the west end of Regina.

TWO YEARS FOR CHINESE TELLER

Mar Leung, teller in the Chinese department of the Royal Bank of Canada, Douglas Street, was sentenced to two years less one day hard labor by Magistrate Henry Hall in City Police Court this morning for theft of $2,000.

Before sentence Magistrate Hall said he was dealing only with the actual charge before the court. He had no concern over other possible charges mentioned during the proceedings. The magistrate said that in Leung's case there had been a certain amount of temptation, but stressed the accused had abused his trust and that the amount involved was substantial.

NEW YORK WRITER FORCED FROM REICH

NEW YORK (AP)—Nazi control of news from Germany is a "subtler and more corrosive kind of control" than that exercised by the wartime censorships of Great Britain and France and "the totalitarian fear of facts and thoughts is more corrosive than anything that the democratic war governments know," the New York Herald Tribune said editorially today.

The editorial was prompted by the forced withdrawal from Germany of the newspaper's correspondent in Berlin, Beach Conger.

In a copyright dispatch to the paper from Amsterdam, Mr. Conger said he had been advised by German authorities "that it would be best to leave" as a result of a story he had sent to the Herald Tribune to which the German government "took violent exception."

"In the dispatch in question, telephoned from Berlin and printed last Tuesday, Mr. Conger reported that Nazi Germany probably is "more confused today than it has been since the days of 1933 when the Hitler government came to power." He said that among factors contributing to the confusion were the alleged attempt to assassinate Adolf Hitler in Munich and the asserted refusal of the German army high command to invade a neutral country to break the western front stalemate.

In his Amsterdam dispatch the correspondent wrote that Nazi officials told him a complete denial of the story would have to be issued, otherwise telephone privileges would be revoked. Mr. Conger said he was ordered to leave the Foreign Office press conference last Thursday and "later the same afternoon I was told I could no longer send or receive long distance telephone messages, telegrams or letters."

In its editorial, the Herald Tribune said Germany has no official press censorship, but added: "Of the way in which this liberal system operates, the Herald Tribune can now offer a first-hand example. . . . Mr. Conger was not expelled; and there is still no censorship on any similar dispatches which other correspondents might send. But the effect would seem to be very much the same.

"The Nazis have not established a formal censorship because for years they have perfected the totalitarian art of censorship by stopping all news sources on the one hand and holding the sword of intimidation over the correspondents on the other. . . .

"In the long run it is not the severity or success of war censorship that is impressive; it is its relative futility in concealing the broad shape of things. Its fears give it away; its silences are revealing; and the really big facts—like the Prague riots and their bloody suppression, for example — are beyond concealments."

Nazis Score Turk Press

BERLIN (AP)—Germany has protested sharply to the Turkish government against alleged attempts of the Turkish press, especially the Istanbul Tan, to disturb relations between Russia and Germany, the information service Dienst Aus Deutschland said today. Ambassador Franz von Papen made the protest at Ankara, the service said.

Manion Treats Injured Trainman

VANCOUVER (CP) — Trainmen described today how Hon. R. J. Manion, national Conservative leader, used his medical skill to aid a fireman, injured when his train collided with another at Kamloops.

As the Canadian National passenger train entered Kamloops junction late last night it was "side-swiped" by a freight train which cut across the path of the advancing passenger locomotive. The locomotive and an express car were derailed.

Fireman O. A. Cross jumped from the engine cab just before the collision, injuring his shoulder and suffering a severe cut on the head.

Passengers including Dr. Manion were knocked from their feet while James McLaughlin, an express messenger, and one of the cooks in the dining car suffered minor injuries.

Cross was found lying unconscious alongside the track by other crew members and Dr. Manion was called. Lacking medical equipment, he roughly bandaged the injured man, who was then taken to the Kamloops Hospital.

The passenger train continued the trip here with another locomotive after being held up about an hour.

Dr. Manion came here in the course of his informal visit through the west.

Earlier yesterday Dr. Manion treated a child who had been severely scalded before getting on the train.

The Conservative leader was greeted here by a number of British Columbia Conservative Association officials and other friends and later attended an association luncheon, where he was guest of honor.

Dr. Manion will leave Vancouver tonight for the east and will visit Calgary, Regina, Winnipeg and Fort William.

Nazi Plane Chased From London's Rim

LONDON (CP) — The Admiralty announced tonight German aircraft had "made an unsuccessful bombing attack" on a British destroyer in the southern part of the North Sea.

An unidentified airplane earlier drew anti-aircraft fire in flying over the outskirts of London, Essex and southern Kent, and German scouting activities extended to the north of Scotland.

No air raid warnings were sounded, though anti-aircraft fire trailed the plane which reached the edge of the British capital.

Flying over the southeast coast at a great height, the plane was greeted by steady fire.

British chasers streaked in pursuit as the craft sped eastward.

In one town on the coast crowds gathered in the street and watched the firing against the plane.

Conservatives Lead At Polls In New Brunswick

SAINT JOHN (CP)—At 6.30 p.m. A.S.T. (2.30 P.S.T.) the Canadian Press reported the party standing in the New Brunswick elections as follows: Elected, Conservatives 12, Liberals 8.

Leading: Conservatives 15, Liberals 10, unreported 2; total 48.

The standing in the Legislature at the time of dissolution was: Liberals 41, Conservatives 5, vacant 2.

SAINT JOHN (CP)—Premier Dysart retained his seat in Kent county in the New Brunswick election today. He has held the seat since 1917. His two running mates in Kent also were elected. This leaves the county's representation unchanged from the last House.

The first report of the election of a Liberal was reported as Hon. C. H. Blakeny, speaker of the last House. A candidate in Moncton City, he defeated his only opponent, Ambrose Wheeler, Conservative.

Provincial Secretary-treasurer C. T. Richard was elected in Gloucester and three other Liberals in that constituency also were returned to the Legislature. This is the same as in the last House.

ST. JOHN CHARGES

Election of four Conservatives in Saint John City was conceded one and a half hours after the polls had closed. Defeated Liberal candidates included: Hon. A. P. Paterson, Minister of Education, and Hon. E. J. Henneberry, president of the executive council. The concessions represented four gains for the Conservatives.

SQUIRES ELECTED

Conservative leader F. C. Squires was re-elected in Carleton with two other Conservatives. He had a comfortable majority.

RIDING RESULTS

In the following list of elected candidates * indicates member of last Legislature:

Liberals—

Kent—*A. J. Bordage, *Hon. A. A. Dysart, Isaac Melanson, unchanged.

Gloucester—*J. A. Doucet, *W. A. Losier, *Hon. C. T. Richard, *F. T. B. Young, unchanged.

Madawasa — Two Liberals elected. Unchanged.

Moncton City — Blakeny (L) 4,658; Wheeler (C), 3,452.

Conservatives—

Saint John County—Two Conservatives elected. Unchanged.

Saint John City—R. G. McInterney, W. Grant Smith, W. J. Swanton, J. Starr Tait—total four. Four gains from Liberals.

Kings — Three Conservatives elected. Three gains from Liberals.

Island Floods Renew Threat

Heavy rain, accompanied by a strong wind, threatened again today to send the Zeballos River over its banks at Privateer flats, four miles from Zeballos, where 70 families were forced from their homes twice during the past week.

The river returned to normal yesterday and residents of the small Vancouver Island mining settlement had hopes they would be able to remain in their homes, built on low-lying ground along the stream's banks.

"A few hours more of this rain and conditions will be as bad as ever," Major George Nicholson, postmaster here, said today.

District engineer I. Hallen went to Zeballos yesterday from Tofino, 80 miles south, aboard a British Columbia Police motor launch in charge of Sergeant Harold Raybone. He surveyed the damage done to roads and bridges, which some quarters estimated will amount to thousands of dollars.

Personal property damage is said to be extensive.

Conditions returned to normal along the Campbell River on the east coast of the island and families forced to vacate their homes at the little settlement of Campbellton last week began moving back again.

Although the Campbell River is still high from heavy rains, the water dropped sharply and reduced the danger of the stream undermining foundations of houses at Campbellton.

Constable M. N. McAlpine of the British Columbia Police reported highway traffic north from Campbell River to Menzies Bay and south to Courtenay is open.

The road from Campbell River to Forbes Landing is still closed and the basement of the hotel at the fishing resort is flooded, Constable McAlpine reported.

Lambrick Seeks Return As Reeve

Reeve Arthur G. Lambrick will seek a second term in the Saanich municipal elections on December 16, and present indications are he will be unopposed.

While personal matters had delayed earlier announcement, the reeve indicated today he would stand for re-election.

He was elected to the reeveship on a platform of internal reform and he is seeking return on the record of his work during the year.

Homes for Child Refugees

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Provision of homes in Canada for child refugees of the present war in Europe is being considered by the Association of Children's Aid Societies for Ontario, Bert Beaumont, executive secretary of the Hamilton Children's Aid Society, said today.

9 Ships Sunk By Mines, U-Boats; 122 Lose Lives

LONDON (CP)—Mines at least temporarily supplanted submarines as the leading sea menace off the British coast today as the floating explosives added still further to the war's greatest week-end toll of merchant shipping.

Nine vessels were reported sunk in the North Sea at the week-end, with 122 persons dead or missing.

The sinking included the 345-ton British trawler Wigmore with a crew of 16, the 1,267-ton British collier Torchbearer, and the 4,258-ton British ship Pensilva. The last mentioned was sunk "by enemy action," the Admiralty announced, the first two ran into mines.

Four survivors of the Torchbearer's crew, reported to have numbered 13, were landed at an English port. The crew of the Pensilva was saved.

Neutrals were the chief sufferers of the week-end havoc, losing five ships to Britain's four.

The sunken vessels were: Pensilva, British, 4,258 tons; Simon Bolivar, Netherlands, 8,309 tons; Grazia, Italian, 5,857 tons; Blackhill, British, 2,492 tons; B. O. Borjesson, Swedish, 1,586 tons; Carica Milica, Jugoslav, 6,371 tons; Kaunas, Lithuanian, 1,521 tons; Torchbearer, British, 1,267 tons; Wigmore, British, 345 tons.

BOLIVAR TOLL 85

Tonight agents of the sunken Netherlands liner Simon Bolivar issued an official casualty list showing 85 were dead or missing. The captain and 18 members of the crew and 66 passengers were listed.

Previous authoritative estimates had been a total of 140 dead, and had caused loss of the Bolivar to be described as the greatest merchant shipping loss since the start of the war.

The Montreal - bound Athenia, torpedoed the first night of the war, remains thus the greatest shipping loss to date with 112 dead and missing.

Eleven persons were believed drowned or killed by explosions aboard four of the other ships.

These four were the Grazia, the Blackhill, B. O. Borjesson and Carica Milica.

SUNK OFF BELGIUM

Another vessel lost was the Lithuanian cargo ship Kaunas, 1,520 tons, en route to Britain, which struck a mine near Zeebrugge, Belgium, with the loss of one man of a crew of 17.

Word of the loss of the Kaunas off Belgium came simultaneously with a report from Brussels that Channel service between Belgium and Britain had been canceled for the present.

The press announced the week-end losses in angry headlines such as "Nazi murder mines sink five more ships."

Indignation mounted as poignant episodes of the Bolivar sinking—mothers struggling to save children, passengers saved only to be flung back into the oil-covered sea by a second explosion—were told by the wretched survivors.

ACCOUNTING DEMANDED

The London Daily Express said: "Humanity owes nothing to German leaders who sink ships bearing infants in arms and little children. When Germany is defeated these villains should be destroyed."

The News Chronicle said that by deliberate failure to observe international law and declare mines areas as danger zones, the Nazis "again show themselves enemies not merely of Britain but of all mankind."

International law stipulates a belligerent nation must declare the danger area and warn shipping to keep clear when mines are laid.

Great Britain and France have announced every mine field they laid, but in recent weeks German submarines were said to have been seeding clusters of mines in the channels used by merchant shipping on this side of the North Sea.

The Admiralty said a report the Clan Buchanan was in trouble was a "case of mistaken identity."

REPORTS CONTRASTED

AMSTERDAM (AP-Havas) — The British and German versions of the Simon Bolivar sinking Saturday were published side by side without comment today by the Dutch press.

U.S. AWAITS JAPAN TRADE TREATY MOVE

By ANDRUE BERDING

WASHINGTON (AP) — The sands are running fast on the Japanese-American commercial treaty, and it reliably predicted that when the treaty expires January 26 no new one will have been negotiated.

The way then will be open for congressional action on the resolutions by Senators Pittman (Democrat, Nevada) and Schwellenbach (Democrat, Washington State) to impose an embargo on the shipment of raw materials to Japan.

Any move toward opening negotiations for a new commercial treaty, Washington officials say privately, will have to come from Tokyo.

It is freely granted here that the treaty was abrogated by State Secretary Cordell Hull, not for commercial but for political reasons.

Japan is still in China, United States interests there are still being affected, Japan has not yet replied to the State Department note of last December 31 rejecting the Japanese conception of a "new order" in east Asia.

Students of Far Eastern affairs believe the Japanese government would like to reach a "modus vivendi" with the United States to take effect when the treaty expires.

Several methods have been outlined recently in official quarters to bring economic pressure to bear on Japan without laying the United States open to the charge of discrimination.

ACTION AGAINST MAGISTRATE ENDED

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mr. Justice A. I. Fisher in the B.C. Supreme Court today granted E. A. Lucas, counsel for six miners convicted last week by Stipendiary Magistrate G. J. Sumner at Bralorne on charges laid under the British Columbia Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, leave to discontinue a prohibition order against the magistrate.

The men, executives of the Pioneer Mines local of the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union, were fined by the magistrate on charges of calling a strike at Pioneer Mines on October 8 before arbitration, and remanded for sentence on charges of failing to bargain with employers.

Dugald J. McAlpine, crown counsel, asked that cost be assessed against the miners' executives on the ground that the proceedings were "frivolous and vexatious."

Lucas said the magistrate had convicted the miners before he was notified of the court's order in the prohibition proceedings.

"I will allow you to discontinue without costs," Mr. Justice Fisher told Lucas.

Lucas and John Stanton, also acting for the miners, will apply to Mr. Justice Fisher tomorrow to have the convictions involved in the prohibition proceedings quashed by writ of certiorari.

A.P. Man Sees Little War Evidence In Canada

NEW YORK (CP) — Just returned from a flying trip to Canada, Devon Francis, aviation editor of the Associated Press, writes that the physical evidences of the state of war existing between the Dominion and Germany are so meagre that a visitor is surprised to encounter soldiery.

In the story of his experiences, written for the Associated Press, Francis informs the United States that "Canada is worried lest the United States look too much on the Dominion as a nation at war. Having found nothing to worry the visitor, he tells his fellow Americans about it. His story, in part, follows:

Much of Canada's preparation for war, of course, is hidden.

Volunteer troops are in training, but information on their numbers or disposition must be kept from the enemy.

Young men are learning to pilot combat planes, but the character and extent of their instruction must remain secret.

Canada does not fear invasion or bombing raids. No one so much as suggests that the locks of the little canal which courses through the heart of Ottawa are in danger from enemy bombs.

But Canada does fear saboteurs—and Canada is a winter vacation land.

In both Ottawa and Montreal residents will tell a visitor, "Oh, a few safeguards, yes, against sabotage, but Europe is a long way off and it would be sad if our being at war prevented citizens of the United States from coming up, just as they do in peacetime."

Air service into, and within, Canada, like train service, ignores the state of war. Trans-Canada Airlines, government-operated, shuttles back and forth between the Pacific coast and Moncton, eastern terminus, on regular schedule. Canadian Colonial Airways, with some planes of Canadian registry, wings between Montreal and New York several times a day.

A few soldiers patrol St. Hubert Airport at Montreal, coated against the late fall's 10-degree temperature at night.

"I say," remarked a genial customs official with a touch of wistfulness as I validated my ticket for the return trip to New York by plane, "Were you well treated here? I mean the war—we didn't give you too much trouble, now did we?"

I agreed.

"Then perhaps," he said, "you will say so when you get back to New York. The United States should know that."

It is war but it is not war.

I tried to draw a taxi driver into a conversation about the war.

"Oh, the war," he exclaimed, recognizing it. "I've been reading about it. Will you be in town for the rugby game Saturday?"

At a club in Montreal a man in his 40's poured water into two fingers of Scotch.

"I suppose my two boys will enlist," he conceded. "This is war, again. But I am not lying awake nights thinking about it."

AIRPORTS BUSY

It is at the airport training centres that the visitor is confronted with the real preparations for the conflict. In 1914 Great Britain asked Canada for foot soldiers. Today it is not foot soldiers but aviators.

At the airdrome I found aircraftsmen, young men enlisted to learn to care for warplanes, sharing quarters built for only half their number. At the bachelor officers' quarters two pilots shared a room normally reserved for one.

"We are only getting under way," explained the commanding officer, "but we shall go along fast now."

The goal is 25,000 fliers a year. Canada is the centre of the Empire air scheme. Contributing their manpower will be the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia and New Zealand. If the war in the air is to determine the course of the war in general, Britain is determined to achieve air superiority.

Ominous Quiet Today in Prague

By CHARLES NICHOLS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The German-protected Bohemian city of Prague was ominously quiet today while the Nazi shots that killed 12 Czech patriots there reverberated through the Slavic belt of central Europe.

Workers in the former Czechoslovak capital, now under stringent martial law imposed by the German masters of the protectorate, called off a threatened strike. Czech police were sent to factories to warn the workers it would be unwise thus to protest the shooting of nine student patriots and three German Czechs.

But under the tight control imposed on the protectorate, growing resentment of the Nazi domination was apparent. And Slav spokesmen outside the Nazi zone of rule took up the cause of patriots killed for demonstrating at the funeral of a student killed on the anniversary of the founding of the Czech republic.

In London, the former republic's president, Eduard Benes, and Premier Wladyslaw Sikorski of Czechoslovakia's neighbor, Poland, buried past differences and agreed to common action against the German trespassers on the Slav's historic living space.

SLAVS OUSTED

From the welter of reports coming from points on the Bohemia-Moravia protectorate border, reasons for the growing antagonism toward the German rule may be sifted.

These reports say Slavs as well as Jews are being ousted from positions in business and the civil service and replaced by Germans. Street signs are being printed in German.

The effect of this on the Slav sensibilities is about the same as a Germanized street sign on London's Downing Street would have on Britons. It awakens once more the hot Slav resentment of Teutonic encroachment on their traditional territory.

This time Russia has disappeared from the scene as champion of the pan-Slav deal. Leaders of the subjugated Slavic countries more and more turn to the Allies, whose war aims encompass the restoration of their liberties.

If German resistance slackens under the Allied siege, Jan Masaryk, son the founder of Czechslovakia, warns that his people will revolt.

Inclusion in the cryptic communique of the fact that two Czech police were among those killed by the Nazi Schutzstaffel had more significance than appeared on the surface.

Earlier Nazi reports from the protectorate said casually that Czech police were put in control of the student disorders, the implication being that the trouble was caused by a small, fanatic group of youths out of sympathy with the great body of their compatriots. The fact that the Czech police themselves had shown opposition toward the Nazis sufficient to warrant the death penalty gave the lie to the implication.

Floods Stop Fights Along West Front

PARIS (CP) — Flood waters stalled land war operations along the length of the western front today, forcing the Germans to abandon a number of inundated positions on their side of the Rhine.

An artillery exchange started in the zone south of Saarbruecken by the Germans was one of the day's few features.

Air operations were equally reduced, but German fliers continued their long-range scouting flights—all at high altitude—over east and southeastern France.

Air raid alarms were sounded along the Rhone valley and in Normandy. At Lyons, in the Rhone valley, the alarm lasted from 9.35 to 10.20 a.m. At Rouen, Normandy, the alarm was given at 10.25 a.m. The all clear signal followed at 11.11 a.m.

The sharp brake placed on military operations by flood waters was reflected in today's early communique, which said there was "nothing to report during the night."

French military sources asserted the rising waters of the Rhine had caused greater damage on the less-protected German side of the river. Abandoning some positions, German troops were reported raising dikes and attempting to pump out a number of flooded blockhouses.

In Alsace, the Lauter River was at flood crest. In Lorraine, the Blies and Saar were swollen by waters from the many streams crossing the mountainous and wooded country which marks the front.

NAZIS' REPORT

BERLIN (AP)—Violent storms kept German troops on the western front busy yesterday removing uprooted trees, the German news agency reported today.

The weather prevented German reconnaissance flights, but planes already in the air returned safely, the agency said in elucidating today's high command communique, which stated simply "no special events" occurred yesterday.

Enemy planes penetrated German territory only in the immediate neighborhood of the border, the agency asserted.

Apparently the "lively machine-gun and rifle fire on both sides" reported in yesterday's communique also took note of "localized artillery activity" elsewhere on the front.

(A dispatch from Basel, Switzerland, said flood waters of the Rhine had driven French and German soldiers from their river-front pillboxes at the southern extremity of their lines.

(Of aerial activity, a dispatch from The Hague told of an exchange of fire between a trespassing German plane over the island of Schiermonnikoog and one of a flight of Netherlands pursuit planes. Apparently neither plane was struck.)

Liner's Survivors Covered With Oil

HARWICH, Eng. (CP) — Britain's tight gasoline rationing was relaxed a bit here to assist in washing a heavy coating of oil from survivors of the Netherlands liner Simon Bolivar, which struck a mine Saturday with an estimated death toll of 140. Authorities of Harwich made a special application for extra gasoline.

Only after two thorough scrubbings was one baby girl, first thought to be a negro, discovered to be white.

After a first washing she still seemed colored and was unclaimed, but the filth yielded the second time. Another infant was identified by the size and number of his teeth. Both babies were reunited with their mothers today.

Oil-soaked refugees from the sunken Dutch liner Simon Bolivar brought to London stories of disaster at sea—a disaster which underscored a seemingly new phase of the war.

Dispatches out of London quoted the British Admiralty as blaming Nazi mines for sinking of the 8,309-ton liner with the loss of about 140 lives "a further example of German disregard for international law and the dictates of humanity."

Among the uninjured but bedraggled survivors who reached London, however, there were some who said they thought a submarine had torpedoed the vessel. One man said two German seaplanes had reconnoitred the ship Saturday, a few hours before it blew up.

The impression among passengers that the liner was torpedoed probably was reasonable under the circumstances. But the Admiralty explanation fits closely into a pattern of German attack which has been becoming evident during the last week.

This pattern has been indicated by the fact ships plying presumably unobstructed shipping lanes close to the British Isles have been running into uncharted mines. It would be difficult for Nazi propagandists to convince the world these are placed by Great Britain. This country hardly could be expected to mine the lanes through which its own and neutral commerce reaches its ports.

Furthermore, the British say the fact their mines—unlike those of Germany—become impotent once they are cut loose from their moorings tends to eliminate any theory they are castaways from charted Allied fields.

All the nice girls love a sailor—and a soldier, too, it was evident at the Royal Victoria Theatre last night, where this happy picture was taken backstage. These two charming girls are with the San Francisco Opera Ballet which performed for the troops last night. Standing is Miss Jacqueline Martin and kneeling Miss Merle Williams. At extreme left a member of Victoria's 16th Canadian Scottish looks pleased. Next to him is a Royal Naval reserve man from England, then two members of the Canadian Army medical corps, a Canadian sailor boy and a grinning lad from the Seaforth Highlanders of Vancouver. Capt. Victor G. Brodeur, commanding officer of the Esquimalt Naval base, and Mrs. Brodeur smile broadly for the cameraman in the theatre foyer. Following the performance they entertained the ballet at a reception at their home at the naval dockyard. The ballet is giving a performance at the Royal Victoria Theatre tonight.

Men of Services Enjoy Concert

Victoria's first wartime concert last night brought sailors and soldiers and their girl friends to the Royal Victoria Theatre, where for two hours they enjoyed a splendid program, applauded a group of the city's best-known artists and literally brought the house down when the San Francisco Opera Ballet presented two magnificent numbers.

More than 1,500 persons crowded the theatre and scores were turned away. Ticket of admittance was a uniform of Canada's fighting forces, the Navy, the Army and the Air Force. Those who had wives took them, some of the men had their mothers or their sisters, a number of the older men brought their daughters, most of them took their sweethearts, others were with their buddies or mates, depending on the service.

NAVY, ARMY HEADS

Capt. Victor G. Brodeur, commander of the Esquimalt naval base, attended with Mrs. Brodeur and a group of senior officers and their wives and was seated in the main right box, as becoming the representative of the senior fighting service. In the left main box sat Brigadier J. C. Stewart, commanding officer at Work Point Military Barracks, Mrs. Stewart and a group of his senior officers and their wives. Both parties were received at the main entrance by Brian Burdon-Murphy and Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, who arranged the program.

Kilted "Scotties" talked with sailors from all parts of Canada and, indeed, from many countries of the British Commonwealth; the grey-clad boys of the air force grinned at the men in khaki as Frank J. Sehl, genial master of ceremonies, led the vast audience in "Roll Out the Barrel" and that old favorite of the last war, "Pack Up Your Troubles." Hundreds of young voices roared out the rollicking choruses with spirit and enjoyment.

Kathleen Agnew and "Dolly" Wilson sent the house into gales of laughter with their impromptu clowning, as they argued which made the best boy friend, a sailor or a soldier. When Miss Agnew shouted "I'm for the army," every soldier in the audience roared approval. And when Mrs. Wilson said she liked a sailor best the boys in blue stood right with her. They drew for hats, Mrs. Wilson picking a sailor's and Miss Agnew a soldier's, which they donned at jaunty angles. Then Mrs. Wilson recited a poem entitled "Son of the Beach," and finished with a little rhyme about blackshirts, brownshirts and Gandhi, who wore no shirt at all.

FRENCH FAVORITE

Mme. M. Griffaton recalled war days of 1914 when she sang, in French, "Madelon," and then the boys and their friends joined the chorus in English. Mme. Eva Baird made a welcome return to the stage and sang "Deep River" and "Through the Years." "Dudley Wickett contributed "Old Mother Hubbard" and "When I Think Upon the Maiden." Harold Groves, Joy Groves and Alf Adams presented character studies, little Miss Groves being particularly happy. James McGrath recited "Gunga Din." The Hornby Trio entertained with a clever skating act. Accompanists were Mrs. Harold Groves, Miss Maquinna Daniels, Miss Eileen Dumbleton and Cecil Heaton.

The highlight of the evening was the appearance of the San Francisco company, which did a divertissement to Tschaikowski's "Nutcracker Suite" and the ballet from Smetana's "The Bartered Bride." This excellent company, appearing before the public at the Royal tonight, was only too delighted to dance for Canada's fighting men and were obviously thrilled at their reception.

After the show the girls posed back stage, arm in arm with the soldier and sailor boys and then hurriedly changed to attend a reception at "Admiral's House" as guests of Capt. and Mrs. Brodeur.

Music for the ballet was provided by members of the local Musicians' Union, who filled in at the last moment late in the afternoon and rehearsed, under the assistant conductor of the ballet orchestra, at the Y.W.C.A. until they went across the street to the theatre. Stage hands contributed their services, CFCT donated a loud speaker system and Famous Players, through Clifford Denham, manager of the Royal, gave the theatre.

DUTCH BRING DOWN NAZI WARPLANE

ROERMOND, the Netherlands (AP) — A German military plane, apparently disabled by Dutch anti-aircraft guns, crashed in a meadow near here today, killing the pilot, who was the sole occupant.

This was the third incident in three days in which the Dutch engaged German aircraft flying over the Netherlands.

The fact the Dutch had fired on the plane at Roermond before the crash was disclosed in an official communique from The Hague. The machine flew low over Roermond with its motors dead before attempting a landing.

Reports from Berlin indicated one German flier was seriously injured in yesterday's engagement over the island of Schiermonnikoog.

Tree Blown Down Near Where Ex-Kaiser Walks

DOORN, the Netherlands (AP)—Former Kaiser Wilhelm II of Germany had a narrow escape today when a sudden windstorm uprooted three large trees in the garden of Doorn Castle.

The 80-year-old ex-emperior, walking with an official of his court, was only 50 yards from where the trees fell, having just passed the spot.

He returned to the castle in a highly nervous state.

The story caused damage to small Netherlands shipping yesterday. Seven seamen lost their lives.

The Kaiser sent a message of condolence to Queen Wilhelmina over the sinking of the Netherlands liner Simon Bolivar Saturday off the British coast.

Vancouver's Relief Bill Decreases

VANCOUVER (CP) — Social Service Administrator W. R. Bone reports 17,433 persons received relief in Vancouver during October of this year compared with 21,331 in the corresponding month of 1938, a decrease of 18 per cent.

Cost of relief during the month totaled $173,129, a drop of $25,753 from the total for October last year.

Under a new cost-sharing agreement with the British Columbia and federal governments the city's share of relief expenditures dropped from $76,881 in October, 1938, to $43,296 this year.

The drop in relief rolls is attributed partly to enlistments in the Dominion's military units and to the fact that seasonaly employment lasted longer this year.

3 Blood Transfusions

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — With blood of his three big brothers coursing through his veins, Joseph Nichols, 15, rallied today after an operation for removal of a kidney ruptured when he fell while climbing a fence. To strengthen him for the operation yesterday, brothers Francis, 22; Robert, 18, and Paul, 20, gave Joseph some of their blood.

Infant Dies of Fever

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP) — Gerald Demone, an infant of 16 months, died here today of scarlet fever in the isolation ward of the Hamilton General Hospital, where 55 other persons are under treatment for the disease.

Canada's 1st Division Soon Ready For Overseas

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's overseas military commander knows his troops and is proud of them. He is proud of their physique, their intelligence and of their serious view of the great moral issues in the present war.

During the week-end Major-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the First Overseas Division, took a group of newspapermen into this confidence and told his impressions of the units under his leadership. He had just returned from a quick coast-to-coast tour in which he visited every First Division unit.

The general received the newspapermen in the office of Hon. Norman Rogers, and the defence minister who served as a private in the first Great War while the general held a commission and rose to command the Canadian Corps Artillery, was present.

Few details pertaining to the First Division were overlooked. The general answered questions on rations, training, physique and equipment, but shied clear of certain angles on which secrecy is desirable.

Frankness and directness are two of Gen. McNaughton's characteristics.

FRANK TALKS

He told the reporters he had asked the commanders of the First Division units to speak frankly to him on his recent tour. They had done so, had informed him of their difficulties, and in many cases suggestions offered had been adopted immediately.

Mr. Rogers smoked a cigarette and Gen. McNaughton a pipe as the conference went on for more than an hour. The general, a slight figure in his khaki uniform, combined gestures with his words. His iron grey hair was a bit rumpled. From time to time when he spoke with emphasis he would push his horn-rimmed spectacles up on his forehead.

His quick memory was displayed particularly when he said newspapers had recently dug up many of his old speeches and writings on military subjects. One correspondent said he had been looking for one without success and named it.

"Published in the Defence Quarterly of April, 1932," said the General.

Some of the facts elicited at the conference were:

Canadian-made Bren machine guns will be delivered before April 1, 1940, the date specified for first delivery in the contract with a Toronto firm.

The troops now have all the machine guns they need for training purposes, including Bren guns.

Men in the army under 19 and officers under 20, the minimum age for going overseas, will be kept in training until they reach the minimum age.

GOOD FOOD

Troops are getting excellent rations prepared by experienced cooks and show gains in weight after a short period in uniform.

Experiments are being made with an intelligence test.

The First Division will be as well equipped as possible and as well equipped as the British Army when it takes the field.

In ordering Highland regiments to use battle dress instead of the kilt the Canadian authorities were following the example of the Highland units in the British Army. The kilt could be worn on leave. Some Highland emblems might be worn with the battle dress but the kilt was unsuitable for conditions in the theatre of war.

Canadian troops overseas will be identified by a khaki shoulder patch bearing the word "Canada" in silver-grey letters.

All essential supplies will be in the hands of the troops in a short time.

The first division will soon be attired completely in the new battle dress uniform consisting of loose-fitting slacks and blouse and canvas gaiters.

Red Cross Dog Collects $28

"Victor," the St. Bernard dog Red Cross collector, banked $22.20 from collections on the streets of downtown Victoria Saturday, officials of the Red Cross Superfluities Store, 1220, Government Street, said today.

During a brief appearance in town last Wednesday the dog collected $3.59, and an additional sum of $2.95 was collected in the money box at the dog's window headquarters at the store. A chute has been constructed from the outside of the window to a model of the Victoria branch, Royal Bank of Canada, which has been placed in one corner of "Victor's" window kennel, through which money deposits can be made.

Total collections from the work of "Victor" amounts to $28.74.

Britain Preparing To Send More Troops

By YVES MORAN

LONDON (CP) — A qualified source said today plans to quadruple the 158,000 British effectives now in France are responsible for the elaborate supply and transport machinery set up by the British Expeditionary Force.

British officials since the beginning of the war have built brick by brick an organization capable of caring for four or five times the present number of Tommies along the Maginot Line. The procedure was dictated by the following considerations, this source said:

1. Despite Britain's prewar defensive preparations, she did not in September have an army answering the needs of a long and exhausting conflict. The general staff decided therefore to concentrate its first efforts on establishing administrative and supply centres in France, thus paving the way for the army still in the making.

2. Polish resistance to the German invasion, together with later Reichswehr hesitation, gave the British unexpected time to create an orderly groundwork for a vast future military installation.

Bases now being laid down far behind the lines are stocked with immense reserves of food, clothing and other supplies. They are tapped by railways which permit rapid movement of the goods to the front. Provisioning is further ensured by motor transport along carefully chosen and adapted highways.

Between the bases are depots, from which supplies could be rushed to the front lines by alternative highways if air raids should strike the main supply stations.

RUSSIA IN NEW TALKS WITH JAPAN

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Russian official sources reported progress today in negotiations to improve relations with Japan while the press continued to attack Finland for "increasing preparations for war."

Tass, Soviet news agency, announced agreement had been reached on the "composition and functions" of a mixed commission to establish a boundary between Sovietized Outer Mongolia and Japanese-protected Manchoukuo.

The commission, which will attempt to settle frontier problems left unsolved when the two countries concluded a truce September 16, after more than four months of border fighting, will meet soon at Chita, Siberia, Tass said.

At the same time, Tass reported the Soviet Premier and Foreign Commissar, Vyacheslaff Molotoff, and Japanese Ambassador Shigenori Togo had found "a community of views" after "exchanging opinions on the fundamental principles on which a Soviet-Japanese trade agreement must be based."

The Communist Party newspaper Pravda, meanwhile, said in a dispatch from Helsingfors, "Finnish troops are marching everywhere on the eastern frontier," which Finland has refused to revise in accord with Soviet demands.

"There are nightly blackouts," Pravda said, "but on the Soviet side everything is normal."

5 Warplanes Towed From U.S. Into Alberta

SWEETGRASS, Mont. (AP)—Five United States-built airplanes, en route to Canadian military forces, came down in a cow pasture field of this small border community yesterday and were towed across the international boundary to a Canadian field.

The planes, built by a California factory, are of the single-motored pursuit type.

They were flown here by way of Great Falls and pulled across the line in ompliance with a United States State Department order prohibiting American pilots flying over territory of a belligerent or pilots of a belligerent to fly over United States soil.

Sugar Beet Experiment

REGINA (CP) — The Saskatchewan government will sponsor a series of experiments along the irrigable lands of the Qu'Appelle River Valley to determine whether that territory is suitable for the growing of sugar beets, Hon. J. G. Taggart, minister of agriculture, said the first step would be to obtain the co-operation of 40 or 50 farmers in the Qu'Appelle Valley area to conduct experiments. The government will supply the seed, supervisory services and materials for keeping proper records.

Acclamations In 4 Ridings

OTTAWA (CP)—Five federal by-elections are to be held before Parliament meets, but it seemed today the truce in party politics, maintained fairly consistently since the war started, and the likelihood of a general election early next summer would discourage contests at the polls.

At the moment a contest is promised in only one of the four by-elections scheduled for December 18. That will be in Saskatoon. In the fifth by-election, fixed for January 8 in Prince County, Prince Edward Island, it is expected Hon. J. L. Ralston, Finance Minister, will be given an acclamation.

Hon. R. J. Manion, Conservative leader, and his followers are relieved to have decided against engaging in political strife during the early part of Canada's war preparations and no candidates of that party are expected to run in the by-elections.

The five seats to be filled were all held by Liberals and all were vacated by death. The by-elections on December 18 will be in Kent, Ont., Saskatoon and the two Montreal ridings of St. James and Jacques Cartier.

So far as could be learned today the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation is not entering any candidates, nor is the Social Credit party. They will husband their resources and energies for the general election expected to be called early next summer.

Liberal candidates, not yet named, are expected to be given acclamations in the two Montreal ridings. In Kent no opposition has developed for A. L. Thompson of Chatham, Liberal nominee, but in Saskatoon the Liberal candidate is opposed by Rev. W. G. Brown, representing the "United Reform government."

Michael P. Hayes, Saskatoon auditor and president of the Catholic Lay Association of Saskatchewan, was chosen Liberal candidate for the seat made vacant by death of Dr. A. M. Young.

Dr. Brown is pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and former Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada and was chosen as United Reform candidate last March for the next contest in Saskatoon.

Death and resignation have struck deeply into the present Parliament since it was elected in October, 1935. There have been 31 vacancies in the House of Commons, of which 23 have been caused by death and eight by resignations.

Advances Planned On Fox and Mink

REGINA (CP) — The federal government will guarantee an advance of 50 per cent of their value on all silver fox and mink furs produced in Canada this year, according to representatives of the Saskatchewan Fur Breeders' Association, who conferred with Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, in Regina, at the week-end.

Breeders said war conditions threatened a serious slump in prices and they had asked the government to protect the industry.

Thanksgiving Confusion in U.S.

By R. J. ANDERSON

NEW YORK (CP) — The celebration of Thanksgiving Day has the United States in a dither.

President Roosevelt had the idea of helping business by pushing the turkey-eating day a week ahead to November 23 on the theory the traditional date of the last Thursday in November—this year it's November 30—is too close to Christmas. But with some states disregarding the presidential proclamation and others holding two thanksgivings, even business doesn't seem to be taking to the idea.

The official United States thanksgiving day this Thursday comes six weeks after observance of the day in Canada, where citizens are accustomed to having the date set annually by the Dominion government. Canada's thanksgiving usually is well head of the United States', and this year the date was October 9.

The governors of the six New England states decided en masse they would have nothing to do with the Rooseveltian Thanksgiving Day. It always had been the last Thursday in November and the last Thursday it would be. So in those states—and in about half of the other 42—November 30 was proclaimed the day for feasting and giving thanks.

While railroads engaged in a first class guessing contest in trying to arrange holiday train schedules and college football authorities had as hard a time trying to set dates for the annual "big games," these oddities cropped up:

Three major airlines took no chances on serving turkey dinners at the wrong time. One company is having turkey on its planes every Thursday this month, another daily from November 23 through November 30 and another on President Roosevelt's date and also on the 30th.

Governor C. A. Bottolfsen—a Republican—proclaimed November 30 as the holiday in Idaho and announced he would work November 23, but that other state officials could do as they pleased.

At Cincinnati, sings appeared on buses: "Do your Christmas shopping early—it may be tomorrow."

But Mayor B. Toliver of Pecos, Texas, had the ideal solution. His thangsgiving proclamation left the date blank so Pecas citizens could take their choice.

Invites Offers Of War Supplies

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. J. L. Ralston, finance minister, said in a statement that any persons or firms in a position to furnish supplies required by the War Board headed by Wallace R. Campbell had only to write to the board, sending in their name and indicating their location, facilities and the kind of supplies in which they deal.

The statement came as the result of information reaching the minister of cases where prospective suppliers had been interviewed by persons seeking remuneration or subscriptions as consideration for having their names placed on the lists of suppliers.

Czechs and Poles

IF A RIGID NAZI CENSORSHIP COULD be lifted, the world would probably learn that events in and around Prague during the last few days have caused Hitler and his gangster associates a good deal more concern than reports of the "incidents" would seem to indicate. Such information as has reached the outside, however, is another reminder that it is one thing to seize a country and its people against their will and quite another thing to bend that will to perform services utterly repugnant to it. The Nazi hierarchy at Berlin may decree the direst of consequences to the young men of what once was the proud capital of the sovereign state of Czechoslovakia, it may close the famous university for a period of years, but it will take much more than the influence of the swastika and those who preen themselves under that sinister emblem to quench the fire that burns in the breast of the implacable Czech patriot. The memory of those who have just been murdered will strengthen his resolve to right a wrong.

Adolf Hitler said last year he wanted no Czechs in the Nazi domain. He told Mr. Chamberlain and M. Daladier at Munich that his demands did not go beyond the return of some 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans to the Reich. Less than six months after that memorable gathering in the ancient Bavarian city, however, he became "protector" of about 7,000,000 non-Germans. His appetite for power and domination had got beyond his control. Young students and the working population of Prague and other communities have reminded him of what it means to keep a people in subjection against their will. The end has not been heard of last March's final despoilation of the former republic. Nor can Ambitious Adolf expect a much easier time for his "protectorate" over that part of Poland which now flies the swastika. To be suppressed there by his soldiery and police are 18,000,000 non-Germans and approximately 2,250,000 Jews. It may take some time for them to get over their sufferings; but frustrated and maltreated Poles will be actuated by the same impulses as frustrated and maltreated Czechs. At the proper time their resentment will out on a scale perhaps not anticipated by the Third Reich's present dictators.

Hitler would do well to recall the words of the 17th century philosopher, Pascal, who said: "Force without justice is tyrannical. Justice without force is impotent. Force without justice is condemned. We must therefore combine justice and force, so that what is just may be strong, and what is strong may be just." But the brain of the Nazi chief is unable to qualify; it understands force and nothing else. And force, on his own invitation, will be his undoing.

Going After Combines

ALTHOUGH HE NATURALLY DESIRES to go cautiously, to study all the circumstances carefully, Attorney-General Wismer's decision to institute legal action against an alleged apple combine in the Okanagan will be warmly endorsed by the general public of British Columbia. The report of Mr. F. A. McGregor, commissioner under the Canadian Combines Act, is a voluminous document, comprising hundreds of pages of evidence, and Mr. Wismer intends to absorb all its details before making up his mind as to the form any indictment shall take. As the alleged combine's operations extend beyond our boundaries, however, British Columbia's jurisdiction may be involved.

Unfortunately for this province, its consuming public and those engaged in its primary industries, the last two decades have been marked by practices and by the passage of legislation in one form or another that have smacked altogether too suspiciously of restraint of trade. Those most directly involved have grown impatient with the introduction of economic formulas which not only discourage initiative and destroy healthful competition, but which strike at the heart of elementary fair play in the business of production and legitimate distribution. British Columbia's public has been substantially overdosed with legislative enactments parading the paradoxical banner of compulsory co-operation.

Well may the Attorney-General describe this alleged apple combine and the legal proceedings he proposes to launch as one of the most important cases ever undertaken by the province of British Columbia. The people generally will read into his references to the matter a definite intention to expose the practices about which the McGregor report makes no bones. And Mr. Wismer may rest assured that if he should utilize this case as a stepping-stone to an exhaustive examination of any legislation on the provincial statute books which is more or less repugnant to fundamental economic laws he will be following a course that will be heartily approved.

Mrs. Roosevelt says she will not succumb to fashion's lure of bustles and wasp-waists. If this keeps up, U.S. election campaign issues are likely to revolve around bustles, wimples and snoods.

More Frightfulness

INTERNATIONAL LAW OBVIOUSLY means no more to Adolf Hitler than a shower of rain at midnight. The immediate end justifies the means—whether it be in the strewing of mines in forbidden waters without attendant notice or in the bombing of women and children in open towns. The sinking of the Dutch liner Simon Bolivar, with the loss of approximately 140 lives, is the most serious and heart-rending of the war so far. Into sea lanes constantly used by shipping of all nations the Nazi navy has planted engines of destruction to do their fell work. Unable to take more than normal precautions, but at least expecting the minimum warning in advance, the Simon Bolivar has joined the Athenia. It is cold comfort to those who are left to mourn the loss of so many who were aboard that the agency of her destruction was meant to destroy a belligerent craft.

Nor is there much satisfaction to be extracted from the fairly reasonable evidence which this breach of international law on the part of Germany implies—that the Nazi High Command is seriously perplexed by its inability to create purely military diversions commensurate in importance with the almost daily threats emanating from the Reich's propaganda factory and government spokesmen. The sinking of the Simon Bolivar, although differing from the torpedoing and shelling of the Athenia, suggests that Hitler and his associates have reached a stage which the Kaiser and his advisers reached early in 1917, when the intensive submarine campaign on Allied shipping began. That there probably will be more of these tragic incidents may be taken for granted. Frightfulness is evidently as typical of Prussian mentality in 1939 as it was a quarter of a century ago. But the odds against its success at this stage are much heavier than they were even after the last war had entered on what proved to be its final year.

The Eternal Battle

WITHIN THE SHORT SPACE OF TIME which has elapsed since hostilities began in Europe humanitarian scientists have announced several new developments of interest and importance to mankind in general. A new treatment for malignant endocarditis, which once took 98 out of every 100 victims, is being tried with some success. A synthetic male harmone has been developed to save effeminate young men from the tragedies of a frustrated life. A new metal, vitallium, has been used to replace part of a man's skull, scraped off in an accident. The comparatively new science of eugenics has advanced another step with the announcement of a synthetic, fatherless birth of a rabbit.

There is in the foregoing the reminder that one battle is going on all the time—the battle between the killers and the curers. Militarists and military scientists work overtime to invent more efficient methods of bringing death to the greatest number of people in the quickest possible time, while humanitarian scientists are continually searching for new and more effective ways of preserving life. It is a veritable tussle to see who comes out on top. Perhaps this always has been the essence of civilization—an eternal race between humanitarians and nihilists, with the former, however, able to hold sufficient advantage to keep the world going.

Salesmen are actually selling refrigerators to Eskimos, which means the end of what was once a good simile.

The reclassifying of Europe's strong men is about complete. The Duce, who hailed himself as an event, is now rated a status quo.

Dr. Dafoe says the Dionne girls know nothing of the war. If the little dears could read the censored dispatches, it would be the same.

Productive Defence Outlay

From Ottawa Citizen

Canadian airports and landing fields of Trans-Canada Air Lines are to form the nucleus of a vast flying arena, continental in expanse, for the purpose of training the fighting men of the British Commonwealth's air force. It is more than an accident that the modern facilities of T.C.A. are available for this defensive purpose. When this government had the enterprize to go ahead with the building of Trans-Canada Air Lines four years ago, the Minister of Transport, Clarence D. Howe, made reference to the possible value of an air service nationally owned, controlled and operated in the event of war.

Without Trans-Canada Air Lines there would have been no continuous airway across Canada for the Royal Canadian Air Force. The flying of fast military aircraft across this country would have been possible only under very hazardous conditions of landing. Airports and emergency landing fields from one coast to the other have made it possible to move a Canadian air squadron to the Pacific or the Atlantic coast from any point in Canada within one day. T.C.A. has been demonstrated to be valuable expenditure on national defence.

At this time, when more criticism than praise is heard of Canada's military preparedness, the government is entitled to credit for Trans-Canada Air Lines. The decision to build around existing facilities for the larger scheme of training the Empire air force is eminently sound. It could well be described as productive defence expenditure.

Parallel Thoughts

"And they spake unto him, saying, If thou be kind to this people, and please them, and speak good words to them, they will be thy servants for ever."—II Chronicles 10:7.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

EX-REVOLUTIONARY

MR. VINCENT SHEEAN was the most attractive figure thrown up in the chaos of the post-war period. If you have read his "Personal History" (now being made into a movie) you know how he loved the great Communist movement of Russia, how he started a Communist revolution almost single-handed in China, and gave the whole revolutionary movement, otherwise rather stuffy, a wonderful sex appeal.

Well, Mr. Sheean hasn't talked about the revolution lately. He has been busy writing books against Hitler. Now, in The New Republic, he confesses all, and it is a confession to make your blood run cold.

He says that the Russian Revolution has run through the classical pattern established by the French Revolution. In the latter, as all you intellectuals know, they have a lingo to represent the various stages. The point at which the Terror paused is called Thermidor, after one of the months in the revolutionary calendar. Now it is generally assumed by the intellectuals that Russia is now at Thermidor, but Mr. Sheean says that, all unsuspected, it has passed that state into Brumaire.

Brumaire, in the French version, marked Napoleon's coup d'etat, when he stole the revolution and established a military dictatorship. Stalin, says Mr. Sheean, has done the same thing and his dictatorship is the worst, the most dangerous, the most bloody and ruthless in history. This from the young knight-errant of the revolution, who extolled it and wept over it on nearly every page of his book.

Now he finds his revolution gone, all his hopes sunk in Brumaire. Every local Communist should read it, but none of them will. It wouldn't do them any good anyway, because they will reply that, of course, Mr. Sheean is well known to be opposed to Stalin. That settles everything. Anyone who is opposed to Stalin probably eats his young.

LOCAL SCENE

ON THE OTHER HAND, the public almost always gets a wrong impression of our local democracy at work. I have noticed that invariably the public crowds the galleries of our Legislature on the very occasions when democracy is functioning at its worst, when the dullest speeches are being made, when the least attractive statesmen are speaking, when the whole impression left on the public mind is bound to be bad.

The result is that most people go away with the idea that democracy isn't so hot. If they only stayed day in and day out, as we are paid to do, they might have a different idea. I suppose it really isn't so hot, but the alternative is so much worse. That is all you can hope for in any political system—that it is a little better than the alternative.

SCOTT

SPEAKING OF DEMOCRACY, I see by the public prints that Dr. Howard Scott, the Fuehrer of Technocracy, has been sweeping through these parts recently and refusing to discuss the war. Such a discussion would have been a little embarrassing for the local brethren, for if he had discussed the war he would have been bound to repeat what he wrote not long ago in his magazine.

There he indicated that the British Empire was as bad as the German and that Canada was a sucker to be in it instead of joining up with the United States in a Technocratic heaven confined to this continent.

In Vancouver Mr. Scott told the Sun that Democracy smelled just as bad as Fascism and Communism. What we must have is Technocracy and nothing else, with life run by engineers, and everybody fitting neatly like a small nut into the machine, and Mr. Scott at the control levers. This will be a system entirely satisfactory to the nuts.

NERVES

A LADY FRIEND of mine tells me that she had a strange, alarming experience this week with the local Ogpu. She was driving her car, as she thought, discreetly along Pandora Avenue, stopping at the stop signs and slowing to 20 where the school zone requires you to slow to 15. Presently she noted a motorcycle officer waving her into the curb. Terrified, she stopped the car and prepared herself for the concentration camp.

Said the jolly young officer of the law: "Lady, I wanted to stop you and congratulate you. You're the first woman driver who has driven properly on this street in the last hour. Thank you."

The lady drove on, terribly shaken by the experience.

This is just to let the police know that their courtesy is appreciated, but they ought to be a little more careful on a lady's nerves.

IN A CONVENT GARDEN

Charlotte Becker in the Washington Star

High overhead a shell drones through the air,
And like the the booming of a giant bee,
Upon the autumn wind comes ceaselessly
The thunder of the guns. The Sisters wear
A vague, bewildered wonder, as they fare
Among the roses, stripping bush and tree
That fevered men, who toss with agony
In shot-torn wards, the crimson blooms may share.
The Virgin bends from her vine-shaded bower
To bless their labor; and the Holy Child
Smiles tenderly upon each dewy flower
That carried to those lives from death beguiled,
A hope born in the midst of ruin, for
A rose's fragrance shall outlast all war.

Another difference is that the World War was fought in the air and that this is being fought over the air waves.

A Bad Chess Player

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

HITLER IS LIKE a bad chess player, who in the first bold moves takes his opponent's queen and castles. The opponent lets him do so, and a complacent smirk wreathes his face. But the opponent, playing cautiously and encouraging his greed for immediate success, is actually tempting him to his reckless moves. And suddenly he finds himself checkmated — although all the first moves had seemed to be victorious.

IN THE GREAT GAME of politics, Hitler is an amateur. He had found a formula, and that formula worked as long as he was playing with very weak opponents. Essentially it was nothing in the world except the use of terror, both brutal and refined.

He mobilized an overwhelming force against a weak and isolated opponent, gave his opponent plenty of time to consider what would happen if he used the force, reminded his opponent that he was isolated, flattered his opponent that if he gave in gracefully he would be spared the worst, and thus, by breaking his victim's nerves, won the fight "without spilling a drop of blood."

This was the technique with Austria and Dr. Schuschnigg. It was the technique he used against Czechoslovakia, for once assisted by Lord Runciman and Mr. Chamberlain. And it was the technique he used against Poland. In Poland the bluff was called, and he was strong enough—and everybody knew he was strong enough, including the Poles—to carry out his threat.

BUT ACTUALLY Poland was important as the test case. And the moment he abandoned threat and blackmail — the successful formula—for actual war and invasion, that moment he was checkmated. For at that moment he called into being a genuine collective security which the League of Nations had been unable to create—a collective security which extends to the neutrals as well as to the belligerents.

The meeting between Queen Wilhelmina and King Leopold was, ostensibly, to discuss a joint mediation move on behalf of European peace. That move has been made.

But there was, apparently, another reason for the meeting, and that was to make an agreement for joint protection against German invasion. Every indication is that Hitler had hoped to isolate Holland and bring pressure against her, counting that her neutral position would make it possible for him to deal with her alone.

But now if he attacks Holland he has got to deal with Belgium, and if Belgium asks French protection, he has got to deal with France — with that enormous French army—on a battlefield advantageous to the French.

Furthermore, he has got to attack two nations who have just joined together in a great plea for a European peace.

One of his tactics, also, has been to keep as many nations neutral as possible. But if it is as expensive and as dangerous to be neutral as it is to be belligerent, neutrality will rapidly disappear in Europe.

AS ONE REVIEWS the history of the war so far, it can be seen that every move of Hitler's has been stupid and without any concept of a total strategy. He has Poland. That great victory put Russia on his frontier in the east and gave the western powers time to mobilize. If he were going to attack Holland, the intelligent thing to have done would have been to let Poland ride—occupy Danzig, make a quick peace with the Polish government and strike with lightning rapidity through Holland and Belgium before the British had a chance to get troops to the continent and to evacuate their cities, and before the French had time to pull themselves together.

If you are going to be a bold bad man, it's better to be one in the right place, at the right moment. If Hitler attacks Holland and Belgium now, he does it just too late.

MEANWHILE, the east European and Balkan states have decided to postpone their quarrels over frontiers, in the face of a danger confronting all of them, and they are protected by Turkey and by Italy.

But, most important, Hitler has taught his technique to others. Hitler now has to fight, but meanwhile Stalin is demonstrating that the pre-Poland Hitler tactic can still work—under the same conditions in which Hitler himself successfully used it.

Stalin is treating the Baltic states exactly as Hitler treated Austria and Czechoslovakia. Stalin has not thought of a single new thing—he has just taken the Nazi blueprint. The Kremlin has become yesterday's Berchtesgaden. Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania have behaved like so many little Austrias, and all has gone merrily — accompanied by the International Communist claque about Stalin's great contribution to peace—until Finland. If Stalin attacks Finland, he will have made precisely the same mistake that Hitler made when he attacked Poland. He will be preparing Russia for the next great movement for collective security, against himself, when Hitler is out of the way.

SO THERE IS SOME REASON for Mr. Churchill's Puckish spirit. Hitler has completed his own encirclement. He has done what neither the League nor Great Britain, neither France nor Russia were able to do: he has hemmed in Germany on all sides. If, like Samson, he wants to pull down the whole structure of Europe in a horrible slaughter, he may still be able to do this. If he does, he may destroy Europe, but he will certainly destroy Germany.

There are patriots in Germany. They must know this.

WHY IS IT that by a few temporary and sensational successes a man can impress a whole world, for a few minutes, with the idea that he is a genius?

Consider what that man has done to his country!

He has spent six years, the entire wealth of the nation, mobilizing for a war that he could not possibly win. He has horrified the world by his attempt to rid Germany of Jews by the most brutal means, and with a total lack of consideration of the problems of other nations. And what is the result of it? He started out with a minority of 600,000 Jews, most of them families who had lived in Germany for generations and were completely Germanized. Now, by conquests which have involved him in a European war, he has managed to acquire a population of some 4,000,000 Jews! He has therefore succeeded in creating for himself a Jewish problem — where none existed when he started. He could deal with 600,000 relatively well-to-do Jews by his methods. He cannot deal with 4,000,000 very poor Jews with his methods. He thinks to solve this problem by moving the Jews from Austria, Germany and Czechoslovakia into Poland, and quartering them among the already desperate Poles. He can, thereby, create starvation and chaos — but the starvation and chaos are not on British, French, or even Polish territory but on his own territory. It is no longer a Polish problem, it is a German problem. And meanwhile he has made a buddy of the Communists, the while he creates the most favorable possible grounds for Communist agitation. It does not seem quite bright!

HITLER HAS TREASON in his midst. Not to believe it, means to believe that there are no honest Germans left in Germany; that Germany is a country without patriots and without brains. This is not true!

SPIDER IN RADIO DIAL

To the Editor—Mr. Campbell queries, "How long can a spider live without food?"

I write in reply as an expert on spiders, that is chasing them, flaying them, hitting them, missing them, yes, and I even blow Fly-tox in their face. However, as an expert I have not the slightest idea how long they can live without food. But may I suggest that any self-respecting spider, irrespective of size, sex or nationality, that can survive 29 days of modern band music without even a stimulant deserves a place in our museum when he does eventually succumb—yes, and with his "hat on the side of his head."

IN THE FUTURE

To the Editor:—A letterwriter in the Vancouver Sun says: "And while we are given to prophesy, it is easy to predict that when the present wave of insanity subsides, the voice of Mrs. Steeves will be heard in the council halls of the new democracy long after the voice of Mr. Pattullo is silenced. Hers will make for better government, a better world and a more lasting peace. Thought marches on."

MORE DANGEROUS LEGISLATION

To the Editor:—It is hoped the members of the provincial House will give most careful consideration to the proposed Contractors Licensing Act when presented. Anything that will in any way interfere with the efforts of the individual with energy enough to build his home should not be allowed.

Now that the city and municipalities are feeling the benefit of this effort and the federal government doing all possible to encourage building by offering assistance with taxes, surely consideration should not be given to a few large contractors.

All supplies for building are arranged to give a fair margin of profit to the manufacturers or supply houses. The city and municipalities have efficient inspectors to see that their by-laws are protected. In fact, all is done to be sure that a building is fit and proper.

Surely a license will not improve this arrangement. The small contractor, the plumber, painter, bricklayer and electric-wirer would also be at the mercy of a board, which may not be to their advantage should this law be passed.

25 Years Ago

November 20, 1914

LONDON—The body of Field Marshal Earl Roberts, borne on a gun carriage, moved slowly today through the streets of London to its last resting place in St. Paul's Cathedral. The streets were lined with troops, while hundreds of thousands of civilians stood with bared heads in a cold rain as the funeral cortege went by.

LONDON—Army headquarters in Petrograd announces that two great battles have developed along the eastern frontier, one on the line between Czenstochowa and Cracow, apparently extending along the railway between these two points, and the second in the Warta-Vistula region, but Russian observers do not appear to attach much significance to the outcome in the latter region.

Splendid progress is being made with the new outer harbor works. Already at low water one section of the breakwater can be seen, and finishing touches are now being put on the first block of the concrete superstructure, which is the last work in connection with the huge wall.

Chapter's Bazaar Nets Sum of $229

The Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O.D.E., bazaar, held Saturday at the Truth Centre Hall, realized the gratifying sum of $229. Mrs. James Baker, the regent, welcomed the guests.

The luncheon and tea room, gay with yellow and bronze chrysanthemums did a brisk business under the convenership of Mrs. Harry Catterall, assisted by Mrs. L. A. Lucas, Mrs. D. C. MacArthur, Mrs. W. Adie, Mrs. C. W. Cuncannon, Mrs. G. C. Pinhorn, Miss Norma Jones and Miss A. Jones. Stalls were gaily decorated with crepe paper in various harmonizing colors, and the tempting display of fancy work aprons, home cooking, etc., found ready purchasers.

The Robert Burns McMicking Chapter's "touch and take" Christmas tree was in charge of Mrs. W. L. Williams, Miss Jill Lloyd-Young and Miss Jessie Knight. Mrs. J. R. Clark had charge of a petit point stool, which was awarded to Mrs. Ray of Vancouver, other winners were Mesdames Warner Cuthbertson, Standerwick, Player, Thompson and Ackerman.

Pipers Participate In Military Wedding

Miss 'Torie' Rennie Pretty Bride of John S. Grimmond

With costumes, colors and decorations chosen to accord with a military wedding, one of the prettiest ceremonies of the season drew a large congregation to the Emmanuel Baptist Church on Saturday evening. The principals were Victoria Doris (Torie), younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rennie, 1286 Gladstone Avenue, and John Stanley, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Grimmond, 1508 Fernwood Road.

Rev. A. S. Imrie, D.D., officiated. Mr. Ian Galliford, organist, played the wedding marches, and accompanied Mr. Frank Tupman in his vocal solo, "Because," during the signing of the register. The church was beautifully decorated. Greenery was banked along the front of the rostrum, and in the background were potted white chrysanthemums and standard baskets of similar flowers and tall white standards holding white cathedral candles. The guest pews were marked with pink heather, tied with white satin bows.

The bride, given away by her father, was lovely in her gown of white peau-de-soie satin, with sweetheart neckline and Elizabethan shoulder line, the long sleeves tapering to a point over the wrist, the skirt ending in a long train. Her veil of filmy Brussels net, the gift of Mrs. Mallek, hung from a coronet of orange blossoms, and she wore a gold necklace, the gift of the groom. Her bouquet was of red roses and heather.

FOUR ATTENDANTS

Miss Gladys Rennie, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Patricia Grimmond, the groom's sister, and Miss Kathleen Tobin, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids, and little Phyllis Godson, another cousin, was junior bridesmaid. All wore frocks made alike of scarlet velvet in the new bustle-back style, full skirt, with military jacket and Glengarry hats of scarlet velvet with white plumes, the junior bridesmaid wearing a poke bonnet of the velvet, with heart-shaped brim and long streamers. They wore scarlet shoes and carried shirred muffs of white velvet, piped with scarlet.

Sergt. C. Milton was groomsman, and the ushers were: Pipe-Major J. Marrs, Piper J. McMillan and Piper S. Smith.

Many guests were welcomed at the reception at the home of the bride's parents, where the effective decorations were the handiwork of Mrs. Amy Rennie. The bride and groom stood between two pillars topped with bowls of white chrysanthemums, against a wall decoration of white satin streamers hung from a centrepiece of silver horseshoes and heather to wall brackets of flowers and fern.

PIPERS PERFORM

Mrs. Rennie received on a gown of grape tone velvet, with black hat trimmed with ostrich plumes, assisted by Mrs. Grimmond, mother of the groom, wearing royal blue velvet with hat to match. Both wore corsage bouquets of yellow rosebuds and violets. During the reception Pipers Donald and James McBeth danced Scottish dances, with Pipers Donald and James and Archie McMillan piping.

Supper was served from a table covered with an Italian cutwork cloth, centred with the three-tiered wedding cake in folds of white tulle, dotted with silver slippers, horseshoes and heather. Silver candelabra bearing ivory tapers and silver vases of rosebuds completed the appointments. The bride cut the cake with her husband's dirk.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. F. Fee, Ontario; Mayor and Mrs. Fry of Edmonton, Mrs. J. K. Campbell, Juneau, Alaska; Mr. Cowan, Vancouver, and Mrs. Breacher, Bowden, Alta.

Mr. and Mrs. Grimmond left for a honeymoon trip, the bride wearing a gown of moss green with hat to match, and brown coat trimmed with brown fur. They will make their home on Lee Avenue on their return.

The many lovely gifts included a silver tea service from the staff of Rennie and Taylor, where the bride was employed, and a carving set with regimental crest from the 1st Battalion pipe band, Canadian Scottish, of which the bridegroom is a member.

Control THE SPASMS OF Whooping Cough with BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE

In the course of a busy day, during which she visited London headquarters of the Dominions, A.T.S. units and nursing services, the Queen called at the Central Hospital and Supply Service of the British Red Cross, whose appeal for support preceded the drive in Canada. She is shown here as she examined, with practical interest, a piece of cloth being made into clothing for war purposes.

Social and Personal

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will join Mrs. Hamber tomorrow in Vancouver where they will attend the golden jubilee dinner of the Trades and Labor Council tomorrow evening.

Mr. Harry Briggs of Vancouver is spending a few weeks here and staying at the Pacific Club.

Mrs. Albert Dalby of New Westminster is visiting her sister, Mrs. James Lawton, Monterey Avenue.

Mrs. Edwin Harvey of Kelowna arrived in Victoria at the week-end on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gray, Arundel Drive.

Mrs. D. S. Mitchell of Vancouver has returned to the mainland after visiting with friends and relatives for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Boorman, St. Patrick Street, have returned after spending the week-end in Vancouver.

Mr. Justice Gordon Sloan, Mrs. Sloan, Miss Buntie Sloan and Mr. David Sloan have returned from Vancouver to spend a week at their home here.

Miss Lilian Ryan and Mr. Eric Metcalfe, who are to be married shortly, were guests of honor at a no-host party held on Saturday night at the weekly supper dance at the Empress Hotel, following a cocktail party. Others present were: Misses Helen Baird, Gladwyn Beasley, Betty Chadwick, Margaret Glover and Patty Stewart (Vancouver), Virginia Ryan, Audrey Eberts, Anne Byrom, Roberta Thatcher, Roseanna Gillespie, Gloria Wilson, Cicely Holmes, Jill and Lorna Scott, and Lieut. Sills, Alfred Crump, Alfred Noble and Bert Chisholm (Vancouver), Brian Burdon-Murphy, Richard Laird, Fred Fulton, John Hind (Vancouver), Herbert Brown and Brian Green.

Mrs. Wilfred Demers (formerly Miss Minnie Dove) was the recipient of many lovely gifts when she was the guest of honor Friday evening at a miscellaneous shower held at the home of the hostess, Miss Marion Cann, 724 Herald Street. Upon her arrival the bride was seated in a prettily-decorated chair, in front of which were the gifts, concealed in a huge, beautifully-decorated shoe in colors of mauve, yellow and pale green, the color scheme throughout the reception rooms. Little Miss Wilma Nex presented her with a corsage bouquet of mauve and white Delmonte chrysanthemums. Games were played, the winners being Miss Mary Crowe, Mrs. E. M. Hyndman, Mrs. W. Demers and Miss K. Hopkins. Refreshments were served from a table prettily decorated with streamers of mauve, yellow and green falling to the four corners from the centre chandelier, and trimmed with the same colors. A vase of mauve and yellow chrysanthemums centred the table. The invited guests were: Mesdames V. Hamilton, P. Laycock, E. M. Hyndman, A. R. Cann, B. Cummings, L. Watkins, A. Wilkie, W. H. Douglas, E. O. Cann, J. H. Braithwaite, B. Dicks, R. Thomas, H. Challen, Mrs. Demers Sr., and Misses L. M. Ormiston, K. Hopkins, Mary Crowe, Winnie Leavitt, Mary Scott, A. Andros, M. Cann, Willma Nex and Jo Fisher (Vancouver).

Major-General F. S. G. Piggott, military attache at the British Embassy, Tokyo, has arrived from the Orient and is the guest of Capt. and Mrs. W. Hobart Molson, Rockland Avenue, for a few days.

In honor of Miss Eva Cross, whose marriage will take place this week, Mrs. C. Merrican was hostess at a pantry shower given at her home, Burnside Road, Friday evening. Upon her arrival, the guest of honor was presented with a corsage bouquet of pink carnations. Many useful gifts were presented in a beautifully-decorated basket of green and mauve crepe paper. Games were played, prizes being won by Miss Muriel Hoy and Miss Doreen Mills. The invited guests were: Mesdames F. Cross, T. Nute, C. Lewis, T. S. Mills, J. Hoy, G. Potts, and the Misses Eva Cross, Muriel Hoy, Evelyn Foulds, Vivienne Nock, Doreen Mills and Eileen Cross.

A farewell party was given on Saturday evening by Mrs. Bob Huot at the home of her mother, Mrs. P. E. Beaven, 3254 Alder Street. Mrs. Huot left on Sunday for Halifax to join her husband. She was the recipient of many beautiful and useful parting gifts. Contests and amusing games were enjoyed by the guests, prizes being presented to the winners. Dainty refreshments were served buffet-style by the hostess, assisted by her mother and the Misses Rita Trace and Terry Wragg. A prettily-decorated ice-cream "bon voyage" cake centred the main table. Auxiliary's Bridge At 'Riffington' Success

Thirty tables of bridge were in play at "Riffington," the Uplands, on Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Reed Paige Clark generously opened her beautiful home for a bridge tea under the auspices of the Junior Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital, of which she is honorary patroness. Augmented by the proceeds from several tables in other homes, and by a cheque for $10 from Mrs. E. W. Hamber, honorary president, about $150 was raised for the auxiliary's work.

The entrance hall was arranged with great bowls of rust chrysanthemums and greenery, and in the drawing-room pink chrysanthemums were used with charming effect. Mrs. Clark, chic in a gown of black velvet and crepe, with the corsage bouquet of gardenias and violets presented by the auxiliary, was assisted in receiving by Miss Rhoda Goward, the president, Mrs. J. K. Hodges and Miss H. O'Brien received the bridge prizes, which were drawn by Master Derek Hood.

Tea was served in the dining-room, the antique oak table being centred with an artistic arrangement of white pottery figures and low plaques filled with deep red carnation blossoms, reflecting the hospital colors of red and white. Mrs. Chas. E. Wilson was responsible for the table decorations, and presiding at the tea and coffee urns during the afternoon were Mrs. Victor Brodeur, Mrs. K. C. MacDonald, Mrs. H. P. Hodges, Mrs. James Adam, Mrs. C. H. O'Halloran and Mrs. H. Austin Goward.

Miss K. Meldram was the general convener and was given splendid support by the following committee: Misses Margaret Goward, Gwen Watkins, Margaret O'Neill, Gloria Wilson and Eleanor Dixon.

Weddings

DAY—PEDEN
ANDERSON—ALDCORN

Of interest in Victoria was the double wedding ceremony solemnized by Rev. D. M. Grant in the United Church Manse at Halifax, N.S., on November 6 at 8.30 p.m. when Eileen Violet, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Peden, 2347 McBride Avenue, became the bride of Stanley Gordon Day, R.C.N., second son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Day, 3043 Washington Avenue, Victoria, and Vivian Elaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aldcorn of Gouverneur, Sask., became the bride of William Anderson, R.C.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Anderson of Cadillac, Sask.

The manse was prettily arranged with baby chrysanthemums. Miss Peden wore an attractive frock of teal blue, embroidered on the sleeves with gold beads, and wearing a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses, and Miss Aldcorn was in a frock in grape tone with gold trimming, and a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses.

Mrs. Peden, mother of the bride, who was present at the ceremony, wore a gown of brown crepe with accessories to match and a corsage bouquet of carnations.

Both young couples are making their home at 18 Tobin Street, Halifax.

GIRLING—BARSLEY

In St. James' Anglican Church, Vancouver, at 8.30 p.m. November 8, Rev. H. R. Whitehead united in marriage Pearl Kathleen Willey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Barsley, and Mr. Reginald Joseph Girling, P.P.C.L.I., Victoria, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Girling.

Wearing an afternoon frock of teal blue crepe, with matching wine-trimmed hat and shoulder bouquet of rosebuds and pink carnations, the bride was given in marriage by her father, and attended by Miss Betty Girling, sister of the groom, and Miss Edith Goostrey. The former was wearing a mulberry afternoon frock with matching accessories, while the latter chose peacock-blue crepe with wine accessories. Both wore corsages of chrysanthemums in contrasting colors.

Following a reception, at the home of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Girling left for Victoria. For traveling the bride donned a beige topcoat with opossum trimming over her wedding costume.

Offers Service to Soldiers' Families

The Family Welfare Association has written to the officers commanding of this area offering to give advice or assistance within their power to any soldiers' families which might be referred to them by the military units, it was stated by Miss Yates, general secretary. The association, wishing to co-operate with the military authorities, and being a member-agency of the Community Chest, is equipped to give such service within Greater Victoria. In this way the association aims to relieve the additional burdens of worry and stress within the homes of those in the army.

ST. MATTHIAS A.Y.P.A.

St. Matthias A.Y.P.A. held their usual business meeting on Wednesday evening. Plans were discussed for a future debate, and for a play to be held late in the season. The resignation of Peter Walker as treasurer was accepted with regret. Isabel Jewell was elected as his successor. After the meeting games were played.

Lady Lake Greeted By Columbia W.A.

Lady Lake, who returned home recently from England, was warmly welcomed by Ven. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns and members of the Columbia Diocesan W.A. at St. Mary's Parish Hall on Friday evening, on the occasion of the monthly meeting of the board. The board also welcomed Mrs. G. T. Hughes as second vice-president, and members stood in silence in memory of the late Mrs. Pimm.

REPORTS READ

The Dorcas secretary appealed for good second-hand clothing and toys for prairie relief; toys and money for Christmas cheer. Mrs. R. J. Pierce reported 27 branches had sent in $240 for the extra-cents fund. Mrs. Frew, girls' secretary, reported a new branch at St. Martin's and that competitions were under way. Mrs. R. C. Keane, junior secretary, reported the rally on October 21, 157 members attending. Miss M. E. Duncan, thankoffering secretary, asked that money be sent in as soon as possible. Miss Lee, educational secretary, reported that a committee had been formed for purchasing new W.A. library books and it was suggested that each branch contribute the price of one new book.

Life memberships were presented by members of St. John's Evening Branch and friends, and to Mrs. Evans, given by members of St. Saviour's. Mrs. Harris reported gatherings of Little Helpers at St. Mary's and at St. Mark's.

Mrs. Bengough reported Dominion life memberships presented to Miss Audrey DeBlois, missionary on furlough from Kangra, India, and to Mrs. Hewson. Mrs. Bengough also gave an account of her visit to the Anglican College at Vancouver. Miss Rathbone, Living Message secretary, asked that subscriptions be sent in by December. A quiz program was conducted by Miss Margery Nickerson. Mrs. F. V. Venables, social service convener, appealed for a man's overcoat and for employment for a woman. Mrs. Philp, Columbia Coast Mission secretary, reported magazines sent to the Ms. John Antle and to men of the Royal Canadian Air Force. Money was voted to Mrs. Finch for work among the Orientals in Cumberland.

The next board meeting will be held at St. Barnabas' on December 15. Mrs. H. A. Barnett, prayer partner of St. Mary's, read the closing intercessions.

THE WEATHER

VICTORIA, 8 a.m. today—A moderate disturbance is slowly approaching the British Columbia coast from the west, while pressure remains high from Kootenay southward. With the exception of showers on the coast, the weather has been fair and mild in this province and also on the prairies.

A cowbird spent the winter of 1900 to 1901 with a buffalo herd, near Winnipeg. The bird survived the wintry weather by snuggling in the wool just back of the horns of a huge buffalo bull.

ENGAGEMENTS

BARRETT—MOORE

Mrs. E. H. Moore, 3820 Douglas Road, Vancouver, announces the engagement of her second daughter, Rosalie Ethel (Rolie), to Mr. Desmond Barrett, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Barrett, 1350 Rockland Avenue, Victoria.

Miss Moore is widely known as "Rolie Moore," president of the famous "Flying Seven." She won the Webster trophy for the western division flying competition in Edmonton and, in 1934, in Reading, England, tied for first place in the Lord Northesk trophy competition. Mr. Barrett is a graduate of Kingston Military College and the University of British Columbia. Miss Moore is at present visiting Dr. and Mrs. Barrett.

MEREDITH-JONES—ARMSTRONG

The engagement is announced of Betsey Ellen, only daughter of Mr. Wm. Armstrong and the late Mrs. Armstrong, Arnold Avenue, to Harold Darlington (Jack) Meredith-Jones, youngest son of Major and Mrs. H. D. Meredith-Jones, Metchosin. The wedding will take place quietly at Kamloops in December.

ARNOLD—CORNWALL

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Cornwall, 440 Pine Avenue, Pacific Grove, California, formerly of Victoria, announce the engagement of their second daughter, Barbara Brooke, to Mr. James Monroe Arnold, second son of Mr. W. A. Arnold of Van Nuys, California. The wedding will take place shortly at St. Mary's-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove. Miss Cornwall is a graduate of the Jubilee Hospital, class of 1934.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Holmes, Tyndall Avenue, Gordon Head, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Dorothy Grace, to Louis Charles, second son of Mr. L. C. De Costa, Esquimalt, and the late Mrs. De Costa. The wedding will take place on November 24.

Girl Stretches to Become Flier

Co-ed Too Short for U.S. Free Course, Tries to Add Inches

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The red-haired 19-year-old Irish Miss breezed right through her physical examination for the United States government's free flying course.

Breezed right through everything, that is, except the requirement that she be five feet two inches tall. Kathleen Hildebrand, Kansas City college student, was a bare five feet one inch.

She wrote to the civil aeronautics authority and was told she could take the preliminary ground instruction, but she would have to gain that other inch or she could not get any altitude in training planes.

That was three weeks ago.

So Kathleen began to s-t-r-e-t-c-h.

She just could reach the top of the doors of her home. So she grasped them and stretched — and stretched some more. Every morning before school. Every afternoon. Every night. Kathleen went back to the examining physician, Dr. Paul C. Platt. She had gained half an inch.

"Go stretch some more," he beamed. "With a spirit like that I think you can make it."

Kathleen s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-d and s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-d.

Yesterday she went back.

Dr. Platt touched her with his measuring standard.

"Ouch!" exclaimed Kathleen.

Dr. Platt took a look. "A goose egg," he diagnosed.

"I bumped my head against the wall," Kathleen grinned. "I thought a good goose egg would add a little to my height."

It, or the stretching, had—but only a quarter-inch.

A lenient C.A.A. official gave Kathleen until the end of the week to acquire a bigger goose egg or stretch another quarter-inch.

Cater to Children At Doll Bazaar

A large number of children are expected at the doll and gift bazaar which the Junior W.A. to the Royal Jubilee Hospital will hold in the Nurses' Home on November 29, and plans are being made for their entertainment.

Instead of a fishpond there will be a Christmas tree laden with gifts at a nominal charge, and gallons of ice cream, and huge quantities of candy will also be on hand. The adult patrons of the affair will be interested in the dainty tea, which is to be served under the direction of Mrs. R. A. Wootton and Mrs. W. S. Church.

Mrs. Peter Barr is the general convener and in charge of the various stalls will be: Woollies, Mrs. K. R. F. Denniston; vocation, Mrs. H. Blenkinsop; home-cooking, Mrs. G. H. Simons; candy, Mrs. Conway Parrott; plants and bulbs, Mrs. J. Gray; Christmas tree, Miss Marcia Prior; contests, Mrs. H. B. Elworthy; dolls' clothes, Mrs. R. L. Challoner; games, Mrs. N. Van der Vliet; evening refreshments, Mrs. Carl Pfender.

Esquimalt League's Bazaar Drew Many

Mrs. V. G. Brodeur, in a graceful little speech commending its aims and objects, performed the opening ceremony at the bazaar arranged by the Esquimalt Catholic Women's League in the Queen of Peace Hall last week. Introduced by Mrs. Harry Temple, the president, Mrs. Brodeur was presented with a bouquet of chrysanthemums and carnations. Stalls were gaily decorated with the colors of the league, gold and blue, the work of Mrs. Hammil.

Plain and fancy sewing was convened by Mrs. M. Smythe, assisted by Mrs. E. A. Colbert and Mrs. J. Potts. Mrs. E. F. Allen was in charge of the home-cooking, assisted by Mrs. T. Coles. Contests for a decorated Christmas cake and poultry was in charge of Mrs. P. Comerford. The candy and soft drinks were convened by the C.Y.O. members. Crystal reading was by Mrs. Carter.

Dinner was served by Mrs. H. Temple, assisted by Mrs. Hammil, Mrs. P. Harris, Mrs. J. Lambert, Mrs. J. Matheson. Waiting on table were the Misses F. Pick, M. Harris, T. Sparrow, M. Hammil. Mrs. H. Craven was in receipt of customs.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

1. Is it good usage to say, "The party who telephoned . . ."?
2. When in a large group, is it good manners to exclaim loudly over a women's new dress?
3. In complimenting a woman's new dress is it tactful to say, "It makes you look so slender"?
4. Is it all right to include "Black tie for men" on an invitation to a public dinner?
5. In a simple household, how should a maid address the woman of the house?

What would you do if—

Your husband or wife seems to you to neglect the small courtesies once observed. Would you—

(a) Treat him — or her — the same way?

(b) Try even harder than ever to remember the small courtesies?

Answers

1. No. "The person . . ."
2. No.
3. No. For you imply that she doesn't usually look slender.
4. Yes.
5. Mrs. Jones.

Best "What Would You Do" solution—(b).

Victorian maidens used Preston salts to recover from their swooning; today, they are better known as "smelling salts."

Speaker Talks Of China's Aims

A description of 70,000,000 tragic refugees on the march, with a new China as their goal, and a graphic insight into the heart of India, whose peoples were struggling for self-expression through a philosophy of self-denial and nonviolence, was presented to Normal School students in an interesting lecture by Miss Mildred Osterhaut of Vancouver, recently returned from a year's tour of the Orient with the Fellowship of Reconcilliation Group.

Miss Osterhaut is a graduate of the Normal School and of the University of British Columbia.

Millions of homeless Chinese refugees were marching toward a new China, united in a nationalist movement that the country had never seen before, the speaker declared.

Everywhere in China she found a spirit of hope for the future among the Chinese, who would, she believed, eventually absorb their conquerors as they had done in the past.

Recounting her travels in India, Miss Osterhaut told of her visit to the geographical and spiritual heart of the country—the village of Segaon. Here, Mahatma Gandhi, whose philosophy guided the Congress Nationalist Movement that was seeking greater independence for India, lived in a simple mud hut, adapting his life to the simplicity which he had appealed to his thousands of followers to adopt in order that the economic standards of the country might be improved.

NORMAL SOCIETY IN ONE-ACT PLAY

Humorously portraying the idiosyncracies of human nature, a one-act play, "Street Scene," under the direction of Miss Cicely Holmes, featured the weekly meeting of the Normal School Literary Society Friday afternoon. The production staff of the play included: Miss Mildred Duncan, assistant director; Miss Mavis Dunsmore, properties; Miss Iris Noel, costumes; and Miss Lilian Le Cocq, stage manager. The cast included: Misses Joyce Maidment, Betty Muncy, Rubymay Brown, Jean Rattray, Addie Thompson, Gwen Newnes, Effie Campbell, Frances Steer, Betty Walton, Mildred Graham, Barbara Hodgson, Mavis Huston, Jean Beason, and Douglas Williams, Humphrey Toms, Ivan Mouat, Charles Klingensmith, Lewis Phillips, Edwin Ostberg and Alan Batey.

Extending greetings from the students of his school and paying tribute to Victoria's fine school, A. R. Lord, principal of Vancouver Normal School, addressed the meeting.

A delightful performance of some of Gilbert and Sullivan's operatic gems was given by the school orchestra, under the direction of F. T. C. Wickett. This was its first performance.

Douglas Williams presented an interesting and deversified coverage of current events in giving the weekly news review.

CENTENNIAL Y.P.S.

Centennial Y.P.S. met recently in the church parlors. After a short devotional and business period, the groups proceeded on a travelogue under the direction of Orville Bennett and Gordon Hatch. The C.N.R. roundhouse was visited by the party. Tomorrow evening the group will meet at 8 to hear an address on "Missions."

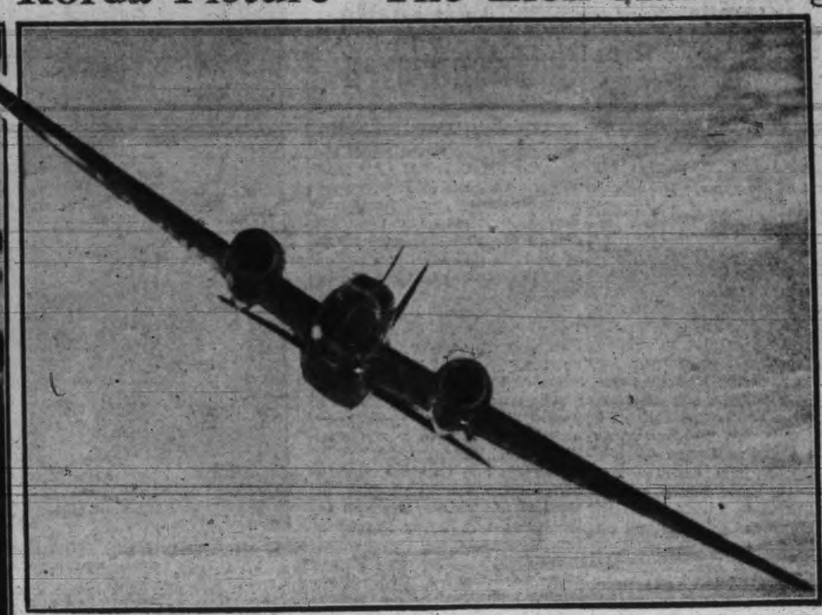
Swift Growth of Britain's Air Might Shown in Korda Picture "The Lion Has Wings"

The pictures are actual photographs of the daring young airmen who carried out a successful raid on a Kiel Canal naval base the day after Britain declared war. Flying low amid anti-aircraft fire, they bombed a number of German warships. A witness of the raid said the Gneisenau was split in two by a bomb which dropped in her funnel. The men are shown on their return to an English base.



Previewed in Toronto in the first showing on this continent, was the sensational new film, "The Lion Has Wings," produced by Alexander Korda in conjunction with the British ministry of information and flown by clipper across the Atlantic. In the film, which pictures vividly the ever-growing might of Britain in the air, are actual scenes of the R.A.F. pilots who raided a Nazi naval base September 4. Scenes of the bombing itself were filmed from the pilots' peresonal report. The picture above shows a British bomber swooping out of the clouds, zooming low to get that essential hit which puts a giant warship out of action. Canadian fliers took part in the Kiel Canal raid. "The Lion Has Wings" will be shown in Victoria shortly.

ACTRESS FLEES—Smiling her pleasure at escaping warring Europe, Jadwiga Smosarska, Poland's leading screen actress, is pictured as she arrived in New York. She left everything she owned back in Warsaw when she fled Nazi blitzkrieg.

FIRST R.C.A.F. PILOTS RECEIVE WINGS SINCE WAR BEGAN—In the first such ceremony since the war began, six young officers of 110 Army Co-operation Squadron, R.C.A.F., received their wings at the flying field in Weston, Ont., November 16. Squadron Leader Keith Russell here pins the coveted emblem on Flying Officer W. G. Middlebro of Owen Sound. One flying officer and five pilot officers proudly swelled their chests as the R.A.C.F. emblem was pinned on. From the left: Flying Officer W. G. Middlebro, Owen Sound; Pilot Officers H. A. Howell, New Toronto, and J. D. Pattison, Toronto; Flight-Lieut. Norman Irwin, the new commander; Pilot Officers K. K. Hay-Roe and E. G. Gilmore of Toronto. They have been in training since June.

CANADA IN LONDON—Hon. T. A. Crerar, Canadian Minister of Mines and Resources, with Hon. Vincent Massey (left), Canadian High Commissioner in London. Mr. Crerar was received, with other Dominions ministers by Premier Daladier in Paris, and over the air pledged Canada's aid to France.

POLICE-SPONSORED BOY SCOUT TROOP CELEBRATES—One year of development has demonstrated the success of the 171st (Toronto Police) Boy Scout troop, organized among boys of Niagara Street school as an experiment in the prevention of juvenile delinquency. Led by members of the police department, and with Lieut.-Col. the Rev. Sidney Lambert as chaplain, every boy in the troop has passed the tenderfoot test, five are ready for their second tests, and two patrol leaders qualified for awards. Shown here are Scouts Paul Jagos, Bill Kassian and Bill Matizuk as the troop celebrated its first anniversary. W. G. Lavery, principal of the school, has noted "appreciable betterment in sportsmanship, initiative and deportment."

HIS MAJESTY MEETS THE MEN WHO FLY HIS SHIPS—Decorating five men of the Royal Air Force recently for gallantry in action, the King made history when he performed the ceremony in the grim atmosphere of a barn-like airdrome hangar. Convinced that the air arm will play a major part in winning the war, His Majesty, as frequently as possible, visits English bases where pilots and craftsmen are in training. He is shown here, in his air marshal's uniform, chatting with pilots during an inspection of personnel with Air Marshal Sir Cyril Newall (right).

GARBO TO WED?—Newest to be named in connection with Greta Garbo, Swedish film star is Dr. Benjamin Gaylord Hauser, Vienna dietetic specialist, now practicing on the Pacific Coast. Garbo couldn't be found to make a statement, Dr. Hauser insists there's nothing to the report—they are just "wonderful friends."

NAZI WARSHIP 'KIDNAPS' A MERCHANTMAN—This is the first photo, according to German censors, showing the capture of an Allied merchant ship by a Nazi warship. The picture is said to have been taken from another Nazi warship in North Sea.

'LAST' PANDA—This Chinese immigrant, Li Ling-ai, is perhaps the last of her kind to come to this continent. Baby Panda, Teddy Bear of the animal world, is shown aboard ship arriving from the Orient.

MAY MARRY HIS NURSE—Miss Romelle Schneider, nurse at Mayo Clinic, where Jimmy Roosevelt underwent an operation, is rumored to have been seen in company of the President's son.

U.S. TRAWLERS TO BECOME FRENCH MINESWEEPERS—Pictured tied up to a dock in East Boston are the trawlers Penguin, Loon, Brant and Plover, former fishing craft that have been sold to the French government and will be used overseas as minesweepers, providing the U.S. government approves the sale. The trawlers were originally built as minesweepers 20 years ago. They were not completed in time for World War service.

TWO THOROUGHBREDS enabled the major 1939 racing season to close in a blaze of glory. The same two thoroughbreds will keep racing interest at an increased pitch during the winter season and, barring accidents, during the 1940 summer campaign.

For had Challedon fumbled his opportunity to clinch the handicap championship in the Pimlico Special, the year would have ended with the leadership of that division clouded.

Had Bimelech been finally defeated in his first distance race, the Pimlico Futurity, then the disposition would have been to class him as another El Chico. Good, certainly, but not the type of two-year-old which goes on during his three-year-old campaign to greater glories.

But neither Challedon or Bimelech failed where so many before them have slipped up—right on the threshold of being universally acclaimed as the best of their class.

Now the argument can continue into the winter over whether William L. Brann's sturdy three-year-old or Edward R. Bradley's unbeaten juvenile, really accomplished the greater feats during the year. Both sides have their share of ammunition for the argument.

It is a pretty good racing year that can produce two such outstanding performers as Challedon and Bimelech. The disappointment of the years was the failure of Johnstown to hold up. When he slumped, possibly because of a throat impairment, it was lucky that a Challedon was on hand to keep interest in the three-year-old class at a high level. Otherwise the dozen or so Grade B performers might have beaten each other the rest of the year.

A dozen Grade B horses taking turns beating each other may produce wide-open races, but it is not calculated to capture the imagination of the mass of thoroughbred followers. A good one, like Challedon, traveling from track to track, taking on all comers everywhere over any sort of track, builds up interest all over the continent.

Challedon, by winning $184,535 by his nine victories, placed himself 14th on the all-time money-winning list, with a two-year total of $252,235, just ahead of Man o' War.

Whether he goes for the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap this winter, or the $50,000 Widener Cup, he is a threat now to surpass Sun Beau's record $376,744, for the son of Challenger II quits for the year a sound campaigner and there is no reason why he should not be as sound as a four-year-old.

Meanwhile Bimelech, with perhaps less outstanding opposition, won $135,090 by his six consecutive wins. Only five two-year-olds in 60 years of racing have won more—Top Flight, Domino, Equipoise, High Strung and Whichone.

Bimelech's six wins were turned in by an aggregate margin of 18 lengths, an average of three lengths per race. His one very close squeeze, in the Hopeful, was due to early interference and it was this, his narrowest win, that proved most about the colt. He can take it, then come from behind to win.

Bradley considers Bimelech the best horse he has ever bred. Bradley bred, among others, Blue Larkspur and Bubbling Over. So Bimelech surely belongs and may be the shortest priced winter book favorite in history for the Kentucky Derby.

WEEKLY SHOOT

The Rainbow Rifle Club held its weekly shoot on Saturday.

Results out of a possible 100 follow:

A class—D. Filewode 100, W. Acland 99, Mrs. M. Bates 98, H. Davies 98, P. Mackenzie 98, Miss G. McAnerin 96, F. Greensmith 95, J. Gwilt 85. C class—K. Molloy 86 and Sambrook 84.

Working like veterans every minute of the game, with a grim determination to chalk up their first victory, Victoria Revellers succeeded in outplaying Vancouver Knights of Columbus 6 to 1 Saturday at the Athletic Park in semifinal play of the Lipton Cup series before 800 enthusiastic fans.

Revellers' win gives them the right to meet the big-four Canadian Football League champs, University of British Columbia Thunderbirds, in the final game of the series at Vancouver this Saturday. Varsity defeated last year's champs, North Shore Lions, 12 to 0, Saturday in the other semifinal game played on the mainland.

Coach George Deacon and his boys deserve all the praise possible for the win over the more-experienced Kaycees. They have worked their hearts out since organizing last summer in an effort to revive the game for local sport fans.

It would be hard to name any particular star of the game. Apart from a few fumbles, Revellers' performance was unbeatable, the big and powerful line repulsing such highly-touted Kaycee backs as Jack Labelle and Roach, meanwhile opening wide holes through which their own ball-carriers, namely Tom McKeachie, Harry Barber and Groff Murdoch, ripped and tore for big gains and the only touchdown of the game.

Groff Murdoch, hard-driving quarterback, scored the touchdown midway in the first quarter, carrying the ball 27 yards on an end run. An attempted forward pass failed for the conversion.

Towards the end of the second quarter Harry Barber was rouged by Dionne for the Kaycees one and only point.

The Revellers' sixth point came in the last period when the ball was kicked to deadline by Kaycee lineman Kirkham.

HAD THE EDGE

The Victoria team had the edge throughout the game, even though the Knights fought doggedly to stop their attacks.

McKeachie turned in a great performance in kicking, passing and plunging. He was also calling the plays. Bill Thompson and Hank Rowe shared in the receiving chores, with Thompson playing a smart defensive game, up on McKeachie's kicks every time ready to nail the receiver.

Barber starred in a Victoria play through the end and middle wing, which was used successfully time after time. He picked up a number of first downs as carrier in this play.

A forward pass from McKeachie to Thompson and a line run by Barber left the ball on Vancouver's 16-yard line following the Victoria touchdown at the end of the first period.

Vancouver pulled out of the hole in the opening minutes of the second quarter, kicking to their 55-yard line. On a fumble by Garrison the Knights took the ball on the 42-yard line, from where they attempted a placement. Barber received the kick, which fell short, and ran the ball to the 32-yard line. The Revellers lost the ball on downs and Labelle heaved a forward to Bob Rose, who kicked to the end zone, following up to rouge Barber, making the score 5 to 1.

The half ended and Kaycees came back with two successive first downs in the third stanza, kicking to Revellers' 20-yard line. An attempted forward from here was intercepted by Groff Murdoch and Victoria followed up with an aerial attack which failed. McKeachie kicked to deep territory but Labelle ran it back 46 yards before being nailed by Barber. The quarter ended with the score unchanged.

Victoria had it all over the visitors in the final period. Kaycees, after a few minutes of play, commenced a series of attempts at long forwards but failed every time. Victoria scored their last point half-way through the quarter.

Esquimalt Beats Garrison Eleven

Playing manager Tommy Restell's Victoria West footballers kept their place at the top of the heap in the Garrison Cup race, Victoria City retained its second-berth position and Esquimalt moved up to take over the third slot in the standings as a result of Victoria and District Football League games played over the week-end.

The Esquimalt boys gained their advancement in the standings yesterday when they nosed out the Garrison, 7 to 6, in a fast game at Bullen Park. Saturday games saw Wests beat Bangers, 3 to 2, and Charley Lewis' city squad score a 5 to 2 win over Saanich Thistles.

Rangers and Garrison, with a win apiece, are deadlocked in third place. Thistles are still in the cellar, not having bagged a win.

Yesterday's Garrison - Esquimalt tiff was a free-scoring affair, with both sides firing plenty of balls at the goals. Esquimalt broke into the score column first. This was in the early minutes. No more scoring came until the 35-minute mark, at which time the Garrison poured in four consecutive goals in the short time of five minutes. Half-time score stood 4 to 1 for soldiers. Esquimalt came back fighting hard on the resumption of play and during this 45-minute session blasted in six goals to two returns to finish the game with a one-goal margin.

POLITANO DOES "HAT-TRICK"

Sparked by Bert Politano, who executed the "hat trick," Victoria City romped home with a decisive victory over the Thistles at Beacon Hill Park Saturday. The City men dominated play throughout the 90 minutes, the young suburban team being quite badly outclassed.

Politano accounted for two of the City's first-half goals, and Booth fired in the other. This made the count 3 to 0 at the half. Shortly after the change-over, Politano made it 4 to 0 and thus completed his "hat trick" feat. Some time later Alexander gave the Thistles their first goal, but this was followed by a tally by Harry Holness, which raised the City score to five goals. It was Alexander who tallied for the Saanich team again late in the half to wind-up the scoring.

WESTS TRIUMPH

The fans who attended Saturday's Heywood Avenue game between Victoria West and Rangers were not treated to a very good exhibition. The Wests won 3 to 2, garnering all their goals within a seven-minute period in first-half play. Victoria West had the upper hand in the first half, but faded badly in the final stanza. Rangers rallied in the last 45 minutes of play and made a more interesting fight of it. They just fell short of tieing matters up after a gallant comeback.

Wests got their first goal after 30 minutes, Scotty Robinson sagged the hemp after a series of corner kicks. Three minutes later Joe Travis' shot found the hemp and Roy Okell made it 3 to 0 four minutes later. Blakemore of the Rangers accounted for all his team's goals in the second half. He converted a penalty kick and beat goalie Tommy Restell later with a tough shot.

JOE DIMAGGIO WEDS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Joe DiMaggio, the San Francisco fisherman's son, who batted his way to baseball fame, was off on an automobile honeymoon tour today with his actress bride, the former Dorothy Arnoldine Olson.

One of the biggest crowds ever to attend a wedding here jammed St. Peter and Paul Church and the street and park outside as the two were married at 2.30 yesterday by Father Francis J. Parolin, priest of Joe's parish.

The bride, known in New York and Hollywood as Dorothy Arnold, went to the altar on the arm of her father, V. A. Olson of Duluth, Minn. She wore a white satin gown of Grecian style with a sculptured bodice, a five-yard train and a coronet veil of fingertip length. She carried gardenias and orchids.

Joe, who met Miss Olson two years ago in a New York film studio, had his brother, Tom, as best man. Matron of honor was Mrs. Irene Morris of Duluth, a sister of the bride. Joe's four sisters: Nellie, Frances, Marie and Mamie, led the march as bridesmaids.

IT'S MR. AND MRS. NOW—Yesterday in San Francisco Joe DiMaggio, New York Yankees' star outfielder, and Dorothy Arnold, film actress, were married. In the above picture they are seen filing notice of intention to wed.

Toronto Wins Again

WEEK-END SCORES

Toronto 3, Detroit 0.
Toronto 7, Detroit 1.
Rangers 3, Americans 1.
Canadiens 2, Rangers 1.
Boston 2, Chicago 0.

Canada's two National Hockey League clubs, Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens, rode high without a defeat on their records today and people began to get steamed up for their meeting at Montreal December 7.

This situation was hardly to be expected before the opening. The Leafs brought in more inexperienced players this year than any other club and the Canadiens put more reliance on aging veterans than the rest. Yet torrid Toronto has won four of its five contests and tied the other, while the flying Frenchmen have scored three victories and a tie in four starts.

The Leaf rookies continued to fly in two overwhelming week-end wins over Detroit Red Wings, 3 to 0 at Toronto Saturday and 7 to 1 at Detroit last night. Jack Church, up from the old Syracuse farm, scored the goal that started the Saturday sweep and Lex Chisholm and Don Metz, both just out of amateur ranks, potted the first two in the Sunday rout.

The twin success put Toronto two points up on the second-place Canadiens, who kept moving with a brilliant overtime triumph against the Rangers before 12,000 persons at New York last night. Polly Drouin got the winning goal—his second of the night—with less than five minutes to go in the extra period.

THIRD SHUTOUT

But goalie Turk Broda of the Leafs continued to be the league's individual star with his third shutout of the season. He has been scored on only twice.

He and the veteran Tiny Thompson dueled in the nets at Toronto until Church stepped from the penalty box late in the second chapter, took a pass from Bob Davidson and closed in to pull the Detroit goalie to one side before hitting the net. After that it was easier sledding and the first forward line scored twice in the third through Sylvanus Apps and Gordon Drillon, while Chisholm impressed the 11,388 customers in his first appearance as a Leaf.

Don Metz made his first showing of the campaign at Detroit and immediately whipped in the first goal of his big-league career

F. Bayliss Wins Motor Bike Test

Checking in with 932 points out of a possible 1,000, Frank Bayliss won the Victoria Motorcycle Club's annual Brentwood Cup reliability test yesterday afternoon over a 40-mile course on the Saanich Peninsula.

Bayliss was riding an 11-year-old Indian Scout motor bike against 12 other starters.

Second, with 910 points, was Jimmy Worswick, well-known Victoria soccer player. Brian Carmichael, last year's winner of the test, placed third with 891 points.

George Welburn won a special award for time-judging ability.

The test started from the City Hall at 1.45 yesterday afternoon and took from between two and a half to three hours to complete. The contest finished at the home of Reg Shanks, Maplewood Avenue. The 40-mile route took in Swan Lake district, Marigold, Prospect Lake, Brentwood, Saanichton, Beaver Lake, Cordova Bay, Gordon Head, Mount Tolmie.

At Mount Tolmie a large number of spectators gathered to watch the riders on their last lap. There were plenty of thrills for the spectators as the speed artists came down the steep southwest side of the mountain.

Reg. Williams, local American Motorcycle Association representative, was in charge of the test and was assisted by a group of checkers from the Victoria Motorcycle Club.

The test was one of the toughest in the history of the meet, with heavy rainfalls of late making some sections of the route practically impassable.

Wins By Decision

PORT ALBERNI, B.C. (CP)—Gordon Woodhouse, British Columbia welterweight champion, gained a five-round decision over Nick Serada of Vancouver in the main event of the amateur boxing show put on by Port Alberni Amateur Athletic Association here Saturday night.

Woodhouse, former Vancouver boxer now living here, was given a tough battle by Serada, who announced after the fight he was "through with the ring."

Bike Racing

Pedens Are Favored

NEY YORK (CP) — The 66th international "six-day" bicycle race gets under way at Madison Square Garden tonight with a field of 12 veteran teams. Canada is well represented by the Peden brothers, Torchy and Doug of Victoria, B.C., and by Jules Audy, blond racer from Montreal who paired with Bobby Thomas of Kenosha, Wis., to make up a Canadian-American duo.

The race has been "streamlined"—shortened to five days. Previous bookings in the Garden necessitated the chopping off of one day from the fixture. The riders will be on view for six days, but the total time they will race will be only two hours over five days.

GERMANS MISSING

Despite the war which has taken the German pair of Gustav Kilian and Hans Vopel and several other noted riders, Manager Harry Mendal has signed up some of the best cyclists in the game.

The flying Dutchman, Arie Van Vliet of the Netherlands, recognized world professional sprint champion, will make his initial appearance in the United States when he rides with the oldest cyclist in the race, Gerard Debaets or Belgium.

The Peden brothers have been established warm favorites on the strength of their previous victories in the Chicago six-day race last week and the last race here in May. Torchy is looked upon by six-day cyclists as the world champion bike rider, having won 34 contests.

Dominoes Resign From Victoria Cage League

Champions To Operate As Independent

Victoria Dominoes, holders of the Canadian championship, today were out of organized basketball. Bill Bland, secretary of the club, announced the team's resignation had been sent to Gordon Wooldridge, provisional secretary of the Victoria and District League. Copies of the resignation were also mailed to the Vancouver Island Basketball Association and to Mert Gordon, Vancouver, president of the British Columbia Basketball Association.

Resignation of the Dominoes from the league follows the announcement Saturday negotiations between the Victoria league and the Victoria Sports Centre Ltd. for the use of the latter's gym at the Willows were terminated.

Bland stated today the Dominoes had resigned from the league at the request of the players. "Until such time as the league will adopt a playing floor that conforms to the rules as laid down by the national basketball committee of the United States and Canada, and adopted by the British Columbia association, our players have no desire to play in the league," Bland stated.

The Dominoes executive member said the players of the Canadian champs had refused to play in th Y.M.C.A. gym and in the other halls to be used by the league for its games this season.

This latest action on the part of the Dominoes follows weeks of negotiating back and forth between the league and the Victoria Sports Centre over the use of the Willows gym. The two have been unable to reach any agreement, and Saturday the Sports Centre announced all negotiations were called off.

HIGH SCHOOL CLOSED

Last year the Dominoes played their league and exhibition games in the High School gym, but this season that floor was closed to basketball. The Willows gym was first used for basketball last season when the Dominoes engaged in the western Canada and Canadian finals.

Dominoes have not announced their plans for the coming season. They intend to operate as an independent basketball club and will no doubt make arrangements for games with clubs from the United States.

At the present four or five touring clubs are anxious to play here this winter, and it is likely

College Squad In Rugby Win

Despite stubborn opposition by the Oak Bay Wanderers, Victoria College ruggers smashed their way to an 11 to 6 triumph Saturday when the teams met in the second intermediate tilt of the season at Macdonald Park. This left the teams on an even footing, Mickey Murray's Oak Bays having defeated the Collegians on Armistice Day, 11 to 0.

Wanderers had 12 men on the field most of the game.

College scored all their points in the first half. Lannigan crossed the line for the first points and Ian MacDonald converted the try. Hughes made the score read 8 to 0 soon after when he took Fricker's pass and grounded behind the Wanderers' goal line. The attempt to convert failed. Fricker figured in the final college try later in the half, passing the oval to Narod who plunged over. The kick for extra points was wild, giving the college an 11 to 0 lead at the breather.

Displaying more fighting spirit in the final session, Wanderers applied the pressure and before the game was ended had cut down the deficit on the scoreboard to five points. Wally Williams scored Wanderers' first try, taking Painter's pass to make a spectacular 30-yard dash. A forward dribble in the late minutes of the game completed Wanderers' score. Painter was credited with the points.

Bud Pangman refereed.

BRENTWOOD WINS

Playing at Shawnigan on Saturday, Brentwood College ruggers handed Shawnigan Lake School a 6 to 3 defeat. It was an exhibition game. The Brentwoods had a 6 to 0 lead at the half, Eglese scoring to complete a three-quarter run and S. Angus adding three more points after a fine bit of broken field running. A free kick on the Brentwood 16-yard line in the second half gave the Shawnigan School its three points. Fleck did the booting.

The game was fast and clean and the calibre of rugby good. There was a good turn-out of spectators.

Bruce Kennedy refereed.

Regina Dales Win

REGINA (CP)—A record junior rugby crowd of close to 5,000 watched Regina Dales win their third successive western final from Winnipeg Young Men's Hebrew Association 2 to 0 in summer-like weather here Saturday. Rouges in the second and third quarters gave the Reginans their edge.

Holders of the unofficial Dominion championship last year, Dales have made no plans to defend their title.

Hoop Feature Won By Dealats

In Victoria and District Basketball League play at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium Saturday evening, Dealats opened their bid in senior "B" men's division play with a 36 to 21 victory over Wimpy's Crescents.

The game was the third and main event on the evening's card. In the second game Chinese Students won from Ramblers 28 to 20, in another senior "B" men's division game and in intermediate "A" boys' play, Barons triumphed over Northwestern Creamery 39 to 27.

Dealats led Crescents the whole way, with Sharp and Wallis sniping 11 points apiece. The winners led 16 to 9 at the half-way mark.

Chinese Students set up a 12 to 8 lead over Ramblers in the first half of their game, six of the 12 points from the foul line. Ramblers came within catching the Students by a basket twice in the second stanza but failed to get any further.

Barons' victory over the Creamery team featured an even individual scoring with seven of their eight players checking in with points.

Macmurchie and Levy refereed. Teams and individual scores follow:

Northwestern Creamery— Brodigan 3, Kelly 9, Gicas 6, Stevenson 3, Mylrea 3, Morrison 3.

Barons — Elford 4, Watson 9, Harknett 2, Taylor 7, Humber 4, Minnis 5, Eddison MacKay 8.

Ramblers—R. Baker 12, Sparks, Jerry Sparks 3, Oakley, Ellis 4, Jackson 1.

Chinese Students—W. Lee 7, H. Chan 2, B. Mar 6, A. Chan, D. Lee, D. Yuen 13, H. Yuen.

Dealats — Sharp 11, Wallis 11, Florence 4, Foster 4, Noakes 2, Price 4.

Wimpy's Crescent — Smith 4, Davies 4, Dunlop 2, Turner 3, Collard, Redknap 4, Moore 4, Milburn.

SCENES OF B.C. SHOWN TO GYROS

Motion pictures of the interior of British Columbia in the region of Kamloops were shown to members of the Gyro Club by W. A. Macdonald of the Government Travel Bureau at a luncheon held in the Empress Hotel today.

In a brief talk before the pictures were shown Mr. Macdonald said that citizens of British Columbia should take an interest in their native province and travel in it to gain a knowledge of its many attractions.

American tourists spent $516,000,000 in foreign countries last year and it is up to B.C. to develop and publicize itself so that some of these tourists visit here, because these foreign countries are now closed because of hostilities.

The motion pictures shown by Mr. Macdonald dealt with scenic views, sport fishing and other attractions of the province, in technicolor. They were taken in the region of Kamloops, the hub of British Columbia lumber, mining and agriculture trades.

Sportsmen from every part of the world contend that there is no better region on the North American continent for hunting and fishing than this particular area.

Views of rivers, falls, lakes, mountains and forest land were shown in the film in all their natural color and beauty.

The speaker was thanked by the members for his interesting film and talk.

Members are asked to meet at Terry's on Monday evening. A mystery night will be held.

Reports of the Gyro representatives working with Community Chest officials were favorable.

REACH $77,907 IN JOINT DRIVE

As the final day of canvassing in the joint Community Chest-Red Cross campaign for $100,000 commenced this morning, pledges totaled $77,907.37, and officials were optimistic that at least $90,000 would be reached in the clean-up period this week.

Returns are $11,494.20 above the results for the same period in last year's campaign.

The women's division of canvassers under the chairmanship of Miss S. Spencer have passed its allotment of $18,000 by $487.59. This is the only section that has completed its allotment.

Death On Election Day Is Problem

A quaint old ceremony, in which the returning officer at an election, when nominations have closed, steps outside the nomination place and reads a proclamation, beginning with the phrase: "Oyez, oyez, oyez" will be eliminated when the new Provincial Elections Act is passed.

The special committee of the Legislature working on the new act this morning passed a section which deletes the old custom and provides for the returning officer giving the proclamation necessary publicity in other ways.

A question as to what should be done when a candidate dies on election day was raised this morning in connection with a plan to simply void the votes cast for such a candidate.

"That sounds like putting a premium on murdering your opponent," smiled Colin Cameron, C.C.F., Comox. He suggested, and most members of the committee agreed with him, that an election where a candidate died before polling was over should be completely voided and a new poll held.

It was pointed out that the dead man might be elected. If his votes were declared void a man who was not the majority choice would get the seat.

The case of the late W. J. Bowser, who died between nomination day and polling in the 1933 election was raised in connection with the matter. Considerable confusion was created, it was explained, and as the poll was deferred there was a tendency for the voters to climb on the bandwagon when they knew the decision of the rest of the province. W. T. Straith, Victoria Liberal, said this was the prerogative of the public.

An illustration was made to Harold Winch, C.C.F. leader of what would happen in his riding, if, for instance, the Liberal candidate dropped dead, and was leading in the voting.

"If a Liberal got a majority in Vancouver East he'd drop dead of surprise," said Mr. Winch.

The cost of voting in some of the outlying sections of the province was raised in connection with one section giving the returning officer power to decide where votes must be cast. At McDames Creek in the Atlin country it sometimes costs as much as $50 to take each vote.

Other changes approved provide that where a woman marries she is entitled to vote under the name on the voters' list and that when a voter shows his or her name has been omitted from the list, he also may vote.

Hereafter a cross opposite a candidate's name instead of an "X" will not invalidate that vote. It will be counted.

Penalties providing for a fine of up to $250 for removing, destroying, mutilating or defacing any election notice were approved.

No election shall be declared invalid because a candidate's papers have been signed by an unqualified elector, if the elector is on the list.

Impersonation will not deprive an elector from the right to vote, according to another clause approved.

Swiss Protest Menace

BERNE (AP)—The Swiss government today instructed its minister in Berlin to make "strong representatiions" at the Wilhelmtrasse against the rain of German anti-aircraft sheels on Bosel streets which injured three on Saturday and damaged much property.

TOWN TOPICS

The Canadian Pensioners' Association will hold its monthly general meeting Friday evening at 7.30.

An organization meeting, open to all Victoria retail clerks, will be held in the Y.M.C.A. tomorrow evening at 8.

The Victoria section Associated Radio Technicians of B.C. will hold their regular meeting tonight at 8 in the Arcade Building.

Appointment of William H. Jones as coroner for Nanaimo district was announced today at the Legislative Buildings. He succeeds the late Harry Hickling.

Seven motorists paid fines of $10 each in City Police Court this morning for exceeding the speed limit. One paid $5 for failing to stop at a stop sign, another the same sum for driving without a license. Four were fined for overparking, one for night parking and one for parking too far from the curb.

More than 100 cases were considered by the city's court of revision of the voters' list in session at the City Hall this morning. Forty-six names were added as the result of property purchases since the proof of the list was published, while 30 were deleted as having lost their voting rights through property sale. Several other cases were considered for changing of addresses. The printed voters' lists are expected to be available next Monday.

Reserves Judgment On Liquor Charge

The case against Earl C. Gray that he permitted persons to have liquor in The Castle Cafe, 241 Niagara Street, on the night of November 14, was remanded until tomorrow morning for judgment by Magistrate Henry Hall in the City Police Court this morning.

After evidence by defence witness Leonard C. Wakeman, taxicab driver, Stuart Henderson, defence counsel, contended there was not sufficient evidence for a conviction. He maintained his client had seen Wakeman carrying a carton of beer into the premises for the wedding party that had hired him and had ordered the waitress not to let them bring it in. Gray had then gone upstairs to retire.

According to evidence given by Wakeman, he was ordered by the waitress not to take the beer inside. Witness then gave the beer to the groom, telling him the waitress would not allow it to be brought into the premises. At this point, witness said, the waitress had to leave to answer the telephone and during her absence the groom slipped the carton of beer into the dining-room and hid it behind the radiator.

Wakeman testified he left 15 minutes later to take the bride and groom to the Dominion Hotel. During the time he had been in the Castle he had seen no liquor on the table. When he returned to the Castle he said he saw an array of beer bottles and half-filled glasses and an empty whisky bottle on the table.

Travel This Way

Sizing up the tour situation throughout Canada and the United States, Mrs. George Powers of the Powers Tours is at the Empress Hotel today from Chicago.

"There will be more personally conducted tours through Canada next year," said Mrs. Powers.

"The war in Europe has interfered with the tourist movement across the Atlantic and many more Americans will come to Canada instead."

Mrs. Powers is accompanied by Mrs. G. Wenck and Mrs. Harry Erickson, both of Seattle.

Musicians With Opera Ballet

Two of San Francisco's outstanding musicians came to Victoria today with the San Francisco Opera Ballet.

They were Willem Van Den Burg and Fritz Berens, both of whom won wide acclaim at the recent opera season in the city by the Golden gate, long recognized as the cradle of music and art in North America.

Charming-mannered Mr. Van Den Burg, born in Holland, has made a name for himself in musical circles of this continent.

Mr. Berens has recently come to this continent from Vienna.

At the Royal Victoria Theatre, where the ballet will appear tonight, Mr. Van Den Burg this morning rehearsed his orchestra for three hours.

LIFE AT THEATRE

The old theatre, which has seen many famous personages, today took on new life as stagehands put up big sets for tonight's performance. This afternoon the ballet rehearsed for several hours.

Mr. Van Den Burg and Mr. Berens conducted last night when the company danced for sailors and soldiers. This morning they said how happy they were to have contributed a little to the enjoyment of the men in uniform.

Mr. Van Den Burg praised the spirit of the local musicians who were hurriedly gathered together to play last night.

For three weeks every year the ballet appears at San Francisco's opera season, at the great War Memorial Opera House. Then it goes on two tours, one before Christmas and the other after, going east as far as Chicago. In the summer it dances at outdoor festivals in California and then prepares for the opera season.

With the ballet are William Christensen, artistic director; Franklyn Smith, concert director; Lea Vergano, pianise; Deane Crockett, personnel manager, Armando Agnini, technical director; Charlotte Rider, scenic designer, and Helen Green, costume director.

This evening the ballet will present the classic, "Chopinade," "In Vienna" to music by Strauss and the great "Coppelia," by Leo Delibes.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

The Y.M.C.A. Swimming Club's annual handicap series commenced Saturday evening at the Crystal Garden with Marg Passmore winning the girls' event and Jack Morgan placing first in the boys' section.

The girls will be competing for the Gwen Bailey Trophy and the boys for the Safeway Cup.

Gladys Baxter was second in the girls' event, with Aileen Stark third and Joan Morgan fourth. Harold Byatt was second in the boys' contest with Len Coverdale and Bob Johnston third and fourth respectively.

The second set of handicaps will be staged next Saturday at the Crystal.

More swimming trials will be held this evening at the Crystal Garden for club representatives in the Vancouver Island Swimming League gala next Friday evening. All members of the club are asked to be on hand this evening and again on Wednesday at their respective swim sessions in the association pool. Entries for the gala will close Wednesday night.

The annual meeting of the swimming club will be held Wednesday evening at 9, following the regular swim periods.

The Senior Leaders' Corps of the "Y" will work out tomorrow evening at 7.15 in the association gymnasium. The Junior Leaders' Corps will practice again next Saturday at 10.30 in the morning.

BAGPIPE PLAYER GETS 15 DAYS

Sentence of 15 days hard labor was imposed by Magistrate Henry Hall in City Police Court this morning on John Sutherland, Vancouver, who makes his living playing the bagpipe. Sutherland's strategy, according to evidence given by policemen, was to place his hat on the street and march up and down playing the bagpipe, thus inviting people to throw money into his hat. He had been warned to move on several times, but had paid no attention.

Sutherland said he was under the impression that as long as somebody gave you something without asking for it, it was all right.

The magistrate pointed out, however, the fact he placed his hat down was a form of request. He said the accused had operated on a busy downtown street and had been a danger to traffic, and when warned to move on had not heeded the warnings.

Notes of Legislature

The House will not sit tonight. Tomorrow afternoon Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, will wind up the budget debate and the house will start regular afternoon and evening sittings on estimates and bills.

The House started its fourth week today with 34 bills on the order paper in various stages of debate. There are several more message bills to come from the government side, and 11 others, either private or public, are listed for introduction.

Minor changes in the Public Utilities Act are proposed. One of them will give the commission power to distribute the costs of appraising a utilities holdings. Under the present law such an appraisal must be billed against the utility company which can pass it on to the public in the rates. The new plan makes it possible for the commission to rule that any other parties concerned in an appraisal, such as a municipal council which asks for it, may be called upon to pay a part of the cost.

Mrs. D. G. Steeves, C.C.F., North Vancouver, is seeking to place domestic servants under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

B.C. Growers Debate Combine Report

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—The executive of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association met here today.

A. K. Loyd, president, stated general matters, including convention plans, would be discussed during the meeting. Some consideration also would be given to the report of F. A. McGregor, Ottawa, commissioner under the Combines Investigation Act, which found a combine in some instances in the fruit trade.

MANAGER RESIGNS

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—Declining any immediate statement, A. C. Lander of Vernon has resigned as assistant sales manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd.

The resignation, accepted by the board of governors whose chief duty is to supervise the marketing agency, will become effective November 30.

Acceptance of the resignation was voted at a meeting when the report of F. A. McGregor, commissioner under the Combines Investigation Act, was discussed.

Mrs. Peter McNabb, 1490 Ocean View Road, an elderly lady passenger in the car of T. F. Baxter, 916 Heywood Avenue, suffered a broken collarbone and an injured right hip last night when Baxter's car collided with a car driven by Mrs. A. E. Bowden, 1841 Lulie Street. Mrs. McNabb is in St. Joseph's Hospital.

DIED

GIDDEN—There passed away in Calgary on Tuesday, November 7, Maude Alice Gidden, aged 52 years, wife of Alfred Gidden of Calgary, now of this city. The late Mrs. Gidden was born in England. She is survived by, besides her husband, one son, Alfred, of Victoria; one sister, Mrs. George Criddle, of Seattle, Wash., and a brother and sister in England.
The remains are resting at McCall Bros.' Funeral Home and services will be conducted at the graveside on Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, by Rev. Arthur Bischlager. Interment will be in Colwood Burial Park.

POLLARD—At Royal Jubilee Hospital on Sunday, November 19, 1939, there passed away at the age of 84 years, William Laban Pollard of 1156 Pembroke Strreet. The late Mr. Pollard was born at Bruce County, Ont., and had been a resident of Victoria for the last 31 years. There remain to survive his passing, besides his wife, at the residence, two daughters, Mrs. L. Nichol of Vancouver and Mrs. T. J. W. Hick of Victoria; five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Mr. Pollard was employed by the City of Victoria for many years.
The remains are resting at the chapel of the Sands Mortuary Ltd., from where the cortege will leave on Tuesday, November 21, 1939, proceeding to St. Mary's Church, Salt Spring Island, where funeral services will be conducted by Rev. C. H. Popham at 10.30 o'clock. Interment will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. James Eddie wishes to thank all his many friends for the kindness and sympathy shown to him and also to thank the pallbearers, the B.C. Coast Service officers and employees and Hayward's for their assistance and kindness, and also for the many beautiful flowers sent during his recent sad bereavement.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Sea Wall, Pilgrim Cove, Esquimalt, B.C.," will be received until 12 o'clock noon, Tuesday, December 5, 1939, for construction of a sea wall at Pilgrim Cove, R.C.N. Barracks, Esquimalt, Victoria District, B.C.

Plans, form of contract and specification can be seen and forms of tender obtained at the office of the Chief Engineer, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, and at the Offices of the District Engineer, Post Office Bldg., New Westminster, B.C.; also at the Post Offices at Vancouver, B.C., and Victoria, B.C.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on printed forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with conditions set forth therein.

Each tender must be accompanied by a certified cheque on a chartered bank in Canada, payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the tender, or Bearer Bonds of the Dominion of Canada or of the Canadian National Railway Company and its constituent companies, unconditionally guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Dominion of Canada, or the aforementioned bonds and a certified cheque if required to make up an odd amount.

NOTE.—The Department will supply blueprints and specification of the work on deposit of a sum of $10.00 in the form of a certified bank cheque payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works. The deposit will be released on the return of the blue-prints and specification within a month from the date of reception of tenders. If not returned within that period the deposit will be forfeited.

By order,
J. M. SOMERVILLE,
Secretary.
Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, November 14, 1939.

Siamese Twins Pay Double Dues

BOSTON (AP)—The American Guild of Variety Actors decided at the week-end what to do about Siamese twins.

Its Boston executive committee and advisory board ruled unanimously that Siamese twins are two persons.

More to the point, they ruled that one child membership won't cover both.

The decision was reached in the case of Mary and Margaret Gibbs of Holyoke, Mass., appearing at Boston Garden.

The case went to the committee after Thomas D. Senna, agent for the guild, had argued unsuccessfully to convince the girls they should pay separate dues. The Gibbs contended Siamese twins had been refused marriage licenses in many states on the ground they were legally one, not two.

Increased Deposits In Imperial Bank

Profits of $966,259 are reported by Imperial Bank of Canada for the year ended October 31, compared with $961,343 in the previous period. Gross assets at $187,959,829 are up more than $20,000,000 in the year, and higher than ever before in the history of the bank. The increased deposits are reflected in a growth in both security holdings and current loans. The annual meeting of shareholders will be held on November 22.

Dominion and provincial taxes totaling $325,885, along with contributions to staff pension and guarantee funds of $99,689, compare with $316,156 and $90,536, respectively in the previous year. From the profit of $966,259 are deducted dividends totaling $700,000, the same as formerly; $100,000 written off bank premises and $150,000 provision for contingencies, both the same as in the previous year. Thus the balance carried to surplus is $16,259, compared with $11,343 formerly, and the surplus forward now is $665,634.

Deposits bearing interest total $99,453,736, against $95,203,907 a year ago. Deposits not bearing interest total $39,783,818, an increase from $36,084,302. Balances due and deposits from the Dominion government are up to $12,006,062, compared with $1,853,563 a year ago. Deposits from provincial governments are also higher, at $10,327,156, compared with $8,439,505.

Cash or its equivalent, in the form of deposits with and notes of the Bank of Canada and notes of other banks, total $15,414,471. Dominion and provincial bonds due in two years or less now total $26,128,055, an increase from $16,048,031. Dominion and provincial bonds due in more than two years have been increased a like amount, to $43,848,583 from $33,458,273. Municipal securities also are higher, at $6,196,599, compared with $5,071,148. Total investment holdings are $76,209,100, compared with $54,627,101 a year ago.

The ratio of quick assets to total public liabilities is approximately 67 per cent.

Call loans are down moderately, now totaling $5,200,024, compared with $5,454,382. Loans to provinces are materially lower, now being $587,928, compared with $6,354,077 12 months earlier. Loans to municipalities, school districts, etc., are $7,393,784, compared with $7,857,619.

Current loans, reflecting business activity, are materially higher at $64,080,746, compared with $58,274,755 at the end of the previous period. Bank premises are carried in the balance sheet at $5,850,776, against $5,946,045 formerly.

Shirley Ross, Sandy, Dennis O'Keefe and Mischa Auer in a scene from "Unexpected Father," now at the Atlas Theatre.

Where to Go Tonight
(As Advertised)

ATLAS — "Unexpected Father," starring Baby Sandy.

CADET — Jean Arthur in "You Can't Take It With You."

CAPITOL — Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland in "Babes in Arms."

DOMINION — "Golden Boy," starring William Holden.

OAK BAY — "Goodbye Mr. Chips," starring Robert Donat.

PLAZA — "Submarine D 1," with Pat O'Brien.

BABY SANDY IN ATLAS PICTURE

When you try to combine babies and comedy anything might happen—and usually does.

Charles Lamont discovered this while directing Universal's "Unexpected Father," now at the Atlas Theatre.

This picture brings baby Sandy to the screen for the second time, her initial bow being made in "East Side of Heaven." And it teams her for the second time with Mischa Auer, one of Hollywood's foremost comedians.

When they get together there's a riot—tempered with a cuteness that belongs only to Sandy.

Dennis O'Keefe and Shirley Ross, who are featured with Sandy and Mischa, supply the romance.

Jackie Coogan Will Marry Young Actress

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Jackie Coogan, grown-up child screen star whose Hollywood marriage went on the rocks last summer, says he's going to wed again and try for a career on the New York stage.

He disclosed his plans during a stop here between one-night stands in Lafayette, Ind., and Kalamazoo, Mich., in the George Abbott comedy, "What a Life."

He said he would marry Harriet Haddon in New York City next fall. The wedding cannot take place, Coogan explained, until a divorce from his first wife, screen actress Betty Grable, becomes final 10 months from now.

Miss Haddon, in pictures three years, now is playing in an ice revue at a New York hotel. Coogan met her in Hollywood. She is 21, he 25.

SEA DRAMA ON PLAZA SCREEN

The thrilling melodrama, "Submarine D-1," which opens today at the Plaza Theatre, is announced as the most stirring and authentic film ever made with a "tin fish."

Pat O'Brien and George Brent are co-starred, and in one of the leading supporting roles is the sensational young newcomer, Wayne Morris. Others in the cast are Doris Weston, Frank McHugh, Ronald Reagan, Henry O'Neill and Regis Toomey.

'Fast and Furious' Shown Tomorrow

Marking the return to the screen of Franchot Tone after a sojourn on the Broadway stage, "Fast and Furious," coming to the Dominion Theatre tomorrow, affords the young actor a new type of role. In this comedy-mystery he plays the book expert-amateur detective husband of Ann Sothern and is given free rein to show his flair for comedy.

Tone and Miss Sothern, as Joel and Garda Sloane, become involved in a double murder mystery while on their vacation at a seaside resort.

CADET PICTURE HAS MANY STARS

Frank Capra's newest Columbia masterpiece, a screen version of "You Can't Take It With You," hailed as even better than the Pulitzer prize-winning stage play of the same name by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart, opens tonight at the Cadet Theatre. Heading the stellar cast are Jean Arthur, James Stewart, Lionel Barrymore, Edward Arnold and Mischa Auer.

'GOODBYE, CHIPS' NOW AT OAK BAY

"Goodbye, Mr. Chips," James Hilton's charming novel of the life of an English schoolteacher, is now playing at the Oak Bay Theatre.

Robert Donat and Greer Garson, English actress, are teamed.

The picture tells the story of a kindly schoolmaster, starting his career in his twenties, becoming a veritable institution in a big English school and shaping the careers of boys destined to become great men.

'Wizard of Oz' to Return Wednesday

"The Wizard of Oz," 100 per cent musical and filmed in Technicolor, will open at the Atlas Theatre next Wednesday for an engagement of four days.

Heading the cast are Judy Garland as Dorothy, Frank Morgan as the Wizard, Ray Bolger, Jack Haley, Bert Lahr, Billie Burke, Margaret Hamilton, Charley Grapewin, Pat Walshe and Clare Blandick.

CAPITOL

Vaudeville, that colorful department of the theatre which is fast fading out, flourishes again in "Babes In Arms," starring Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland, now at the Capitol Theatre.

As the spirited story of this new musical unfolds, a score of old-time variety troopers come to the fore, discource on their past achievements, the former glories of the Palace Theatre, and their hopes of bringing back the headline glories of the two-a-day.

Among the former vaudeville celebrities who appear in "Babes In Arms" are Irene Franklin, Harry Fox, Grace Hayes, Patsy Moran, Lila Bliss, George McKay, Neely Edwards, Margaret Young, Joe Caits, Rube Demarest, Pat West, Henry Rockmore, Kay Des Lys and Lelah Tyler.

'Ship She Roll, I Lose My Pipe'-Gypsy Mother

John Uwanawich, Serbian gypsy, and his family of fourteen, back from a holiday spent in Hawaii, boarded a coast boat here today for Los Angeles via Seattle.

He pushed his hat back and mopped his brow as he counted his brood and checked his baggage at the dockside.

"All yours?" interrogated a waterfront reporter.

"Sure!"

He surveyed the gaily-clad throng with the pride of a fond father, gesticulating, smiling broadly.

"How many?"

He waved his hand encompassingly, and snapped back: "Count 'em."

His wife, a swarthy beauty, intervened to explain that the number included her son and daughter-in-law and their two children.

But to make up for this, she added quickly: "The rest are mine, and I have three more in New York."

Mrs. Uwanawich took the situation much more philosophically than her husband. She delved into her voluminous, multi-colored silk skirt, and pulled out a packet of cigarettes.

"My pipe, I like it best, but it is gone," she said with an expressive gesture. "The ship she roll, and I lose it over the side."

Proud of his gypsy blood, Uwanawich said he originally came from Serbia and settled in the United States.

He makes his home at Los Angeles, but the urge to roam is always with him—part of his nature.

"I raise stock," he said. "Yes, cattle, hogs, everything."

"Where?"

"Oh—I rent some land, and then, maybe, I move somewhere else."

Uwanawich and his wife three months ago decided that their next move would be to the paradise of the Pacific—Hawaii. They packed 16 pieces of baggage, including bedding and domestic utensils, and set out for Honolulu, the family tagging along.

"Work?" "No," he scornfully replied. "We loafed about the beach at Waikiki, and did we enjoy ourselves?"

Affected By War

OTTAWA (CP) — War conditions may force Canada to produce its own supplies of cod liver oil for medicinal purposes and to feed poultry. Anxious lest the supply, which normally comes from Norway and England, be cut off, the Department of National Health has asked the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to canvass the situation.

Cod liver oil is taken by human beings to make up for lack of sunshine and Canadians consume about 700 tons a year, while in addition 800 tons are imported to feed poultry. At present about two-thirds comes from Norway and one-third from Hull, England.

With the falling off in fishing around the British Isles, Britain probably will require all the oil it can produce and getting shipments through to Canada from Norway is expected to be difficult.

Board officials state British Columbia has a considerable export business in liver oils from halibut, pilchards, herring and dogfish.

Around the Docks

HIE MARU ARRIVES EARLY WEDNESDAY

Inbound from Japan, Ms. Hie Maru, of the Nippon Yusen Kaisya, will reach William Head at 1 Wednesday morning, according to advices received today by Harry Douglas, general agent for the Great Northern Railway.

The Japanese liner has a total of 55 passengers aboard, and carries 2,525 tons of general cargo for Vancouver and overland delivery, including 166 packages of raw silk.

For Vancouver the ship carries one first class, two tourist and 23 third class for Vancouver, and six first, 10 tourist and 13 third class for Seattle.

The sister ship, Hikawa Maru, put out to sea over the week-end with a capacity list of passengers and full cargo.

Adelaide Out of Dock

Canadian Pacific steamer Princess Adelaide was refloated from the Esquimalt drydock today by Yarrows Ltd. She will be turned over to her owners tomorrow and will resume her regular schedule between Vancouver and Prince Rupert Wednesday night.

The Adelaide has been here several weeks repairing damage sustained to her stern and rudder by grounding.

TANKER HOLED BY EXPLOSION

BAYONNE, N.J. (AP) — An explosion of undetermined origin blew a gaping hole in the deck of Ss. J. A. Mowinckel of the Panama Transport Company today and caused injuries to one man.

The blast occurred in an empty double tank in the ship's hold.

The Mowinckel docked Wednesday at the Lower Hook plant of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey with a cargo of 109,000 barrels of oil from Venezuela. The Panama Transport Company is a subsidiary of Standard Oil and the Mowinckel is of Panamanian registry.

Vladmere Peterson, cook of the tanker Standard, was taken to the marine hospital, Staten Island, suffering from a sprained ankle which Bayonne first aid squad members said was suffered when he jumped to the deck of the Mowinckel, moored alongside. Crew members said it was a "miracle" some of the 40 men aboard were not hurt.

The explosion broke the steel plates of the deck, opening up a hole 65 feet long and 35 feet wide, and crashing the plates backwards as though on hinges.

Bridges Attacked

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce attacked Harry Bridges yesterday, saying he "personally is responsible" for the strike of 650 Committee of Industrial Organization ship clerks which has practically paralyzed San Francisco waterfront shipping for more than a week.

W. W. Monohan, executive vice-president of the chamber, assailed the California director and longshoremen's leader in a letter to Henry Schmidt, local president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

C.I.O. ship clerks in San Francisco walked off their jobs in an effort to enforce their demands for certain concessions in new contract negotiations.

Foundered in Fog

MONTEVIDEO (AP) — The Netherlands freighter Vredenburg, 6,419 tons, foundered in a heavy fog Sunday off Lobos Island, 80 miles north of here at the entrance of La Plata estuary. The vessel, carrying a cargo of cereal, was en route from Buenos Aires to a European port.

Foreign Exchange

NEW YORK (AP)—Late rates follow, Great Britain in dollars, others in cents: Great Britain, demand 3.91½; Great Britain cables 3.92½, 60-day bills 3.88, 90-day bills 3.86; Canada, Montreal in New York 87.50; Canada, New York in Montreal 114.25; France 2.23.

Rates in spot cables unless otherwise indicated.

OTTAWA — The foreign exchange control board today announced the following exchange rates:

American funds: Ten per cent premium buying; 11 per cent premium selling.

Sterling: $4.43 buying; $4.47 selling.

Relations With Japan Improve

"Relations between Great Britain and Japan are steadily improving," said Major-General F. S. G. Piggott, military attache at the British Embassy at Tokyo, who is in Victoria today on his way to England.

"I am an optimist," said the general, who took part in the Tientsin negotiations in conjunction with Sir Robert Craigie and representatives of the Tokyo government, with a view to settling the incident arising out of the settlement blockade.

"We have every reason to believe that it will be brought to a successful conclusion."

He said he agreed with the views expressed by the British ambassador that the dispute between Japan and Great Britain, on being analyzed, represented 10 per cent of real difficulties, 20 per cent misunderstanding and 70 per cent of imaginary trouble, which could be ironed out with little difficulty.

Major-General Piggott has been stationed at Tokyo for the past three and a half years.

With Mrs. Piggott, the general will be the guest of Capt. and Mrs. W. Hobert Molson at their Rockland Avenue home.

GOLDS UP, OILS OFF

VANCOUVER (CP)—Oil shares went into a general decline, while golds boarded widespread gains in better trading in the forenoon of Vancouver Stock Exchange today. Sales totaled 23,725 shares.

Bralorne at 11.25 and Pioneer at 2.52 topped the gold group as each added 5 points. Cariboo Gold Quartz firmed 2 at 2.20, and Sheep Creek 3 at 1.23, while Premier at 1.48 closed unchanged from Saturday's bid. Other issues were unaltered.

Leading the oil section with a loss of 5, Calgary and Edmonton closed at 2.15, as Anglo-Canadian at 94 lost 3 and Home at 2.40 was down 2 from Saturday's closing bid.

Base metals came in for fairly good play, with Pend Oreille at 2.52 adding 2, while Fairview at 2¼ firmed ¼ from Saturday's bid and Island Mountain at 95 was up 1 from the previous bid.

London Market

LONDON (AP)—Increasing activity accompanied rising prices in many sections of the stock market today. British government bonds closed a little under the day's best levels.

Argentine rails moved vigorously forward and domestic carriers followed suit. Industrial stocks, where changed, were usually higher. Most commodity stocks, especially copper, improved.

Closing, in sterling: Anglo-American of South Africa 33s 9d, Babcock & Wilcox 40s 3d, Celanese Corporation of America £6⅝, Central Mining £11⅝, Consolidated Goldfields 43s 9d ex-dividend, East Geduld £10⅝, H.B.C. 21s 9d, Imperial Chemical 4⅛d, Metal Box 76s 10½d, Mexican Eagle 7s, Mining Trust 1s 9d, Springs 24s 4½d, Vickers 17s 3d.

Bonds: British 2½% Consols £68½, British 3½% War Loan £92⅝, British Funding 4s 1960-90 £105⅛.

Calgary Oils

CALGARY—Slipping back 3 points, Anglo-Canadian was the weak spot in light trading on Calgary Stock Exchange today. Transfers totaled 3,700 shares.

Okalta at 1.10 gained 2 and National Pete at 12½, was up ¼.

Opening at 98, Anglo-Canadian slipped to 95 for a 3 point loss.

MONTREAL (CP)—Bar gold in London was unchanged at $37.54 an ounce in Canadian funds; 168s in British, representing the Bank of England's buying price. The fixed $35 Washington price amounted to $37.50 in Canadian.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP) — Traders on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange watched the fluctuations of a firm Chicago market today and held their own wheat futures prices at slightly higher levels most of the session. Quotations slipped a little in the late trade, however, and at the finish were ⅛ cent lower to unchanged, November at 70⅝, December 70¼, May 75 and July 76⅝c.

Export houses and southern interests were credited with most of the light support in the pit, although lack of selling pressure was the main steadying influence in the trade. Overseas sales of Canadian wheat were expected to be more than 250,000 bushels, with United Kingdom houses the best buyers.

Chicago wheat prices were up about a cent in the initial minutes but slipped back to levels about ½ cent above the previous close. Noon quotations at Buenos Aires were ⅛ to ¼ cent higher.

Exporters and mills displayed a good demand for the top northern grades of cash wheat, but few actual sales were confirmed as buyers' and sellers' ideas of prices failed to coincide. In the coarse grain pit small purchases of rye against sales at Chicago provided almost the only activity.

CHICAGO (AP)—Early wheat market gains of ⅝ to ⅞ cent a bushel were wiped out in late trading here today and prices closed only slightly higher than Saturday.

The trade lacked incentive for action on either side of the market and with speculators on the sidelines trading was sluggish. The attitude of most dealers apparently was one of watchful waiting for developments in the war or in the domestic situation in view of lagging demand and tightening commercial supplies.

Longfellow Taught 17 Years at Harvard

In the year 1820, a newspaper in Portland, Maine, carried a poem written by a 13-year-old boy. It was a good poem for a boy of that age, but it was not destined to be published "far and wide."

The boy, however, was on the road to fame. He was Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

If anyone had asked the boy what he was going to do when he grew up, he probably would have said, "I am going to be a lawyer!" His father was a lawyer, and for a long time the son planned to follow the same profession.

Henry became a student in a small Maine college known as Bowdoin. Three years later, at the age of 18, he was graduated. One of his classmates was Nathaniel Hawthorne, who later was to become a writer of great note.

Longfellow had done so well in his studies that he was offered a place teaching foreign languages at Bowdoin. He liked the idea better than to study law, but decided to go abroad to learn more about languages. Sailing for Europe, he spent three years in France, Spain and Italy. He was 22 when he joined the Bowdoin faculty.

Longfellow was married to a playmate of his childhood, Mary Potter. A few years later he went to Europe again. This time he visited England, Sweden, Denmark, Germany and Holland. His wife traveled with him, and their tour was happy, until they reached Holland—in that little country Mrs. Longfellow fell sick and died.

Thinking of that sadness, we may remember a line in one of Longfellow's later poems, "Into each life some rain must fall." The young professor bore his loss bravely, in the same way he was to meet other deep sorrows of his life.

Upon his return from abroad Longfellow became a professor at Harvard. He taught foreign languages at Harvard for 17 years. He was a favorite among the students, and worked to give them knowledge of the life and spirit of the nations in Europe.

In his spare time Longfellow wrote poems. For a time, the writing seemed little more than a "hobby," but later it proved the greatest part of his life work.

While teaching at Harvard Longfellow married again. His second wife was Frances Appleton. They lived in a home which was old but well built. It had been used by George Washington as a headquarters, and was known as "Craigie House."

HOROSCOPE

Tuesday, November 21

Although adverse aspects rule the early hours today, the afternoon and evening are propitious for decisions and activities. Severe storms or accidents may be expected this week and shipping comes under an evil portent. The planetary government favors heads of government offices, admirals of the navy and army generals.

This is a date for attending to practical matters. Women should devote themselves to household interests rather than indulging in their personal desires. The stars seem to smile on father rather than on mother. Heavy responsibilities and anxieties will make home joys doubly precious.

Foodstuffs will be greatly in demand. Prices of fruits and canned vegetables will rise and there will be difficulty in distribution.

Owling to the spread of enemy propaganda there may be unjust criticism of government policies and recent legislation. Warning is given that undercover organizations will seek to tear down what democracies have built up. Radical views will be widely disseminated among college students. Muddled thinking will increase the nation's danger.

Astrologers warn of treachery, secret plots and double-dealing. The stars seem to presage sudden changes of front on the part of Mexico. The Orient will encounter increased difficulties in commercial relations.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of happiness. For the young, romance is indicated. There may be a tendency to spend money too generously.

Children born on this day will be sensitive and even timid. These subjects of Scorpio may be strongly affected by Sagittarius and for this reason unusually versatile and talented.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

ANSWER: 1,526 feet, or more than one-fourth mile.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—We have been married for 25 years and were as happy as two people could be for fourteen years. Then my husband lost his job and all the money we had and began to run around with women. I started a boarding house to support the family. He has made no effort to help me and has left me to struggle along as best I could. Most of the time he does not work, but when he does he never gives me anything. About four years ago he asked me to visit a woman of bad character whom he described as a "friend." At first I refused, but at last I went and at once realized how things were between them. Since then I have declined to go back to see her, though he nags me to do so all the time. I cannot understand why he wants me to go. If you can tell me what to do about this woman I will be most grateful.

DISTRESSED WIFE.

Answer: That's easy. Let her alone. Don't go within a mile of her. She has as little desire to know you as you have to know her, and there could be no possible bond of congeniality between you.

Certainly a man has sunk to the lowest depths that a human being can go when he tries to make his wife a screen behind which to hide his own iniquity. He thinks that if he can force you to associate with his mistress and be seen out in public with her that he can conceal the true nature of his relationship with her. He thinks he can establish her postion as one of his wife's friends, instead of her being what is colloquially known as his girl friend.

Don't let yourself be put to such a bad use. You have shown courage and dignity in the way you have met misfortune and thereby won the respect of all who know you. But you will lose their good opinion if you let your husband hide behind your petticoats. He has shown that he not only does not love you, but is willing to play a scurvy trick on you. Don't let him drag you down into the pit in trying to save himself. Don't be surprised at the way he treats you. Mos. men whose wives support them are like dogs that bite the hand that feeds them.

DOROTHY DIX.

PAUL ROWE GIVEN GOLD FOOTBALL

CALGARY (CP) — Calgary Booster Club, sponsors of the Bronks football team, who lost out to Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the western final here Saturday, paid tribute to a great aggregation of athletes when 150 members greeted the players at a banquet last night.

Outstanding feature of the banquet, presided over by Dr. L. A. Maxwell, chairman of the club, was the awarding of gold footballs to Paul Rowe, Victoria, B.C., voted the most valuable player to the club during the 1939 season, and to Gordon "Gobbo" Gilkes, voted the most improved local player on the team.

Bert Osborough Wins at Colwood

Placing his marker about 230 yards down the 20th fairway, Bert Osborough won the tombstone competition at the Colwood Golf Club yesterday. With his flag three feet from the 18th pin, Alan Macey finished second, with a margin of about five inches over Ted Colgare.

Entries are now being taken for the Dr. F. M. Bryant Trophy competition on December 9 and should be given to the secretary not later than December 7.

Winnipeg Wins Western Crown

Everything pointed today towards another historic Canadian senior football final as four teams sought the right to combat the champions of the west, Winnipeg's fighting Blue Bombers, somewhere on the eastern front, December 9.

When the Blue Bombers hurtled to a 28 to 7 victory over the Bronks at Calgary Saturday, they removed all doubt about what team or what kind of team the west would send to strive for the Dominion title. Winnipeg, with a club apparently entirely eligible for the national final, won the western conference championship by 35 to 20 on the round after losing 13 to 7 at home to Calgary.

Until that brilliant comeback, there had been doubt about the west's representation, for a good part of the driving Calgary club was ineligible under the Canadian Rugby Union rule which requires a player to have been resident in Canada a year. There even had been talk of letting Winnipeg go east regardless of Saturday's result.

But the Bombers, almost exactly the team that lost to Toronto Argonauts in the 1938 Dominion final, settled all that through the flying feet of Fritzy Hanson and the accurate toe of Greg Kabat. They tied the round in less than a minute despite the absence of such stars as Bill Boivin, Wayne Sheley and Bud Marquardt through injuries.

ARGOS BLANKED

Whether they will meet the Argonauts again became extremely doubtful. Before a howling crowd of 12,000 at Ottawa, the Rough Riders downed the Argos 11 to 0 to take a long lead in the Interprovincial Union final that ends next Saturday at Toronto.

Sarnia Imperials, champion of the Ontario Union the last eight years, took long strides towards representing that league in the eastern final again by whipping Montreal Westmounts 13 to 1 at Sarnia in the first game of their total-points round. That result, almost as surprising as the way Winnipeg kicked the Bronks around, maintained the Imperials' record of no losses at home since 1933. They never have lost an O.R.F.U. senior game in Sarnia.

Representatives of these four units will meet next Sunday at Toronto to decide upon the locale of the eastern final December 2. Announcing the meeting, president Ernie Hamilton of Big Four practically ruled out any possibility of adopting a suggestion, advanced some time ago in the west, that the western winners meet the champions of either eastern conference in a semi-final battle.

Dr. James Naismith Is Seriously Ill

LAWRENCE, Kas. (AP)—Dr. James Naismith, 78, inventor of basketball, rallied today after a night in which friends feared for his life.

His physician termed his condition "somewhat improved" and not particularly critical this morning. His illness had been termed critical after a cerebral hemorrhage last night.

He is professor emeritus of physical education at the University of Kansas.

He devised basketball many years ago while an instructor at the Springfield, Mass., Y.M.C.A. training school, now Springfield College.

Don Lash Winner For Sixth Time

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Don Lash, fleet-footed Indiana state policeman, laid aside his motorcycle long enough yesterday to register his sixth consecutive triumph in the national senior A.A.U. cross-country championship in record-breaking time at Branch Brook Park.

Lash covered the 10,000-metre course (approximately 6¼ miles) in 32 minutes 26 seconds to eclipse his own former record by 11 seconds. He finished 20 yards in front of Gregory Rice of South Bend, Indiana, national intercollegiate cross-country champion at Notre Dame last year. Rice was clocked in 32.30, also shattering Lash's old mark of 32.37, set here in 1936.

By virtue of his victory, Lash became the first to win the 43-year old competition six times.

Snoods Don't Suit

NEW YORK — Snoods, latest wrangle in women's millinery, found disfavor with the National Hairdressers' and Cosmetologists' Association here. They say when women can cover up their hair they are not so fussy about its appearance.

Brown Puts On 137 at Cricket

ADELAIDE, Australia (CP)—With nine wickets to fall, South Australia requires 299 runs for victory in its initial Sheffield Shield cricket match against Victoria. When play closed at the end of the third day's play today the home team had made 261 and 11 runs for one wicket in reply to Victoria's totals of 207 and 363.

New South Wales, with three wickets to fall, needs only nine runs to defeat Queensland. In the match at Brisbane the Queenslanders compiled 290 and 263, their opponents responding with 287 and 258 for seven wickets.

W. A. Brown, Queensland's veteran opening batsman, followed up a first-innings score of 90 not out by making 137 today. His hits included 14 fours. Stanley McCabe hit up 98 in New South Wales' second innings. The Australian vice-captain failed to score at the first attempt.

TORONTO WINS AGAIN

with the aid of other members of his freshman line, Billy Taylor and Red Heron. Apps, Drillon and the battling Chisholm got the other Toronto goals with two a piece, while Kenny Kilrea spoiled Broda's attempt for his fourth shutout.

The Canadiens had to come from behind to win after Alex Shibicky punched a power-play goal while Captain Walter Buswell of the Habitants served a penalty. Drouin sank Toe Blake's pass in the third period to even the count and sailed in alone to catch goalie Dave Kerr out of position for the winning shot.

The Rangers broke even on the week-end by outscoring their fellow-townsmen, the Americans, 3 to 1 at Madison Square Garden Saturday night. Mac Colville scored twice and his brother Neil once, while Tommy Anderson snatched the Americans' counter as the teams packed all the scoring into the third period.

Boston Bruins and the Black Hawks couldn't score for two periods at Chicago last night either, but Roy Conacner and Milt Schmidt potted goals in the third to pull the Bruins out with a 2 to 0 victory. It pulled them even with Detroit in fourth place, a point behind Chicago.
